Distributed Sensor Networks Victor Lesser,Charles L. Ortiz,Milind Tambe,2003-07-31 As computer networks and computational grids become increasingly complex the problem of allocating resources within such networks in a distributed fashion will become more and more of a design and implementation concern This is especially true where the allocation involves distributed collections of resources rather than just a single resource where there are alternative patterns of resources with different levels of utility that can satisfy the desired allocation and where this allocation process must be done in soft real time Distributed Sensor Networks is the first book of its kind to examine solutions to this problem using ideas taken from the field of multiagent systems The field of multiagent systems has itself seen an exponential growth in the past decade and has developed a variety of techniques for distributed resource allocation Distributed Sensor Networks contains contributions from leading international researchers describing a variety of approaches to this problem based on examples of implemented systems taken from a common distributed sensor network application each approach is motivated demonstrated and tested by way of a common challenge problem The book focuses on both practical systems and their theoretical analysis and is divided into three parts the first part describes the common sensor network challenge problem the second part explains the different technical approaches to the common challenge problem and the third part provides results on the formal analysis of a number of approaches taken to address the challenge problem

The Virtual Utility Shimon Awerbuch,Alistair Preston,2012-12-06 In the winter of 1996 after 4 years of planning and research the Symposium on the Virtual Utility was held in Saratoga Springs New York It was sponsored by Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation Co sponsored by CSC Index and the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority and hosted by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Troy NY The symposium sought to identify new areas of inquiry by presenting cutting edge academic and practitioner research intended to further our understanding of the strategic technologically driven issues confronting the electricity production and distribution process The program sought to offer new insights into rapid changes in the utility industry in part by examining analogues from manufacturing and telecommunications In addition to identifying new research areas the symposium yielded a number of important findings and conclusions This volume contains the presented papers of the meeting the discussant reports and two special papers prepared by the meeting rapporteurs who performed superbly in analyzing synthesizing explaining and generally bringing a cohesive perspective to the interesting yet complex set of ideas presented at this unique meeting We would like to acknowledge the people and organizations that contributed to this effort We thank Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation and Albert Budney its President Chief Operating Officer for sponsoring this project and Andrew Vesey Vice President I whose vision support and championing made this project possible Distributed and Parallel Computing Andrzej
