Roadkill English Edition:

If you meet George Herbert on the road, kill him Justin Lewis-Anthony, 2013-01-17 Priestly ministry in the Church of England needs a radical rethink George Herbert died in 1633 His legacy continues His poems are read and sung and his parish ministry remains the model for the Church of England's understanding of how and where and why its priests should minister But there is a problem The memory of Herbert celebrated by the Church is an inaccurate one and in its inaccuracy is unfair on Herbert himself and his successors in the ordained ministry This is a book of the long view It sets out to assess realistically the context of Herbert's life and to explore the difficulties of parish life today By examining the status and role of parish clergy since Herbert's time and today it draws on the work of historians social anthropologists psychologists and theologians and presents their ideas in a readable and passionate style It argues that the future strength of parochial ministry will be found in a recovery of historic renewed understandings of priestly ministry and concludes by outlining more sustainable patterns of practice for the future In a climate of uncertainty for the future of the church it will be an encouragement for priest and people and welcomed by both

If You Meet the Buddha on the Road, Kill Him Sheldon Kopp, 2013-05-22 A fresh realistic approach to altering one's destiny and accepting the responsibility that grows with freedom No meaning that comes from outside of ourselves is real The Buddhahood of each of us has already been obtained We only need to recognize it The most important things that each man must learn no one can teach him Once he accepts this disappointment he will be able to stop depending on the therapist the guru who turns out to be just another struggling human being Using the myth of Gilgamesh Siddhartha The Wife of Bath Don Quixote the works of Buber Ginsberg Shakespeare Kafka Nin Dante and Jung a brilliant psychotherapist guru and pilgrim shares the epic tales and intimate revelations that help to shape Everyman's journey through life

Amphibian and Reptile Road Ecology Cheryl S. Brehme, Robert Nathan Fisher, Silviu O. Petrovan, Viorel Dan Popescu, Thomas Edward S. Langton, Kimberly M. Andrews, 2024-05-21 Roads may threaten the persistence of wildlife populations by acting as barriers to movement and or sources of increased mortality across the landscape Amphibians and reptiles have been identified as being particularly susceptible to negative road impacts Many species migrate annually among habitats to support basic life history requirements such as breeding development foraging and overwintering For these species individuals may need to successfully cross roads multiple times each year for the population to persist Many are slow moving and freeze in the presence of danger making it almost impossible for them to avoid oncoming vehicles Although there are a plethora of road mortality location and count data the effects of road mortality on the long term viability of amphibian and reptile populations and metapopulations are mostly unknown due to a lack of information on their abundance vital rates behavior and spatial and temporal dynamics

Road Kill Pete Adams, 2022-02-14 Cataclysmic events have occurred in the decorous upper middle class enclave within Southsea Portsmouth on the south coast of England But what were the circumstances that contributed to this violent clash involving a Sherman tank and a bazooka The strange occurrence is Investigated by Lord Everard Pimple a naive upper class twit who not only inadvertently opens a can of worms but has an introduction into the world of womanly wiles Everard s life is about to blow up like an atom bomb he just doesn t know it yet But after the dust settles will he still be standing

Road Kill Dave Ebert,2015-04-15 Road Kill Quest for Freedom bores a window back through time illuminating an era gone by The story focuses on a place and the events of a single Motorcycle Club during a period many call The Golden Age of Motorcycle Clubs The Vietnam War was not the only war fought by these young men Road Kill fought another war one that germinated deep inside his soul This war was spawned by a quest he never fulfills A Quest for Freedom and in the end as this Club looks back many older members tell their younger Brothers Its easy to see this was the most phenomenal period in our Clubs long history

Road Kill Craig Hodge,2011 It has been the best part of 12 years since I investigated a fatal accident and dealt with grieving relatives It has taken me 12 years to have the strength to write about it to put pen to paper and record what has caused me so much grief and anguish So writes Craig Hodge one of Victoria Police s leading investigators of fatal road accidents A police officer for 20 years eight of which he spent with the Accident Investigation Section now the Major Collision Investigation Unit Hodge attended the horrific scenes of more than 350 accidents that resulted in deaths and serious injuries In ROAD KILL Hodge recounts harrowing investigations and details the processes involved in finding out the causes of such tragedies which often led to prosecutions His story is a cautionary tale in which responsible driving messages loom large ROAD KILL also provides a poignant account of the emotional and psychological impact such carnage has on all involved not least of all on investigators like Hodge who struggled at times to find a balance between being sensitive to victims and their families while also trying to remain emotionally detached for his own sanity and wellbeing

Half Dead Road Kill Paul Donohue,2014-09-23 Half Dead Roadkill is an endless exploration into the unusual we may all see but have never observed like author Paul Donohue Readers are thrown into a story about guns and those that love them a little too much and weave through a humorous heart pounding chance through the streets of San Francisco They are also taken into relationships that range from under cooked eggs to a couple holding onto who they used to be to a jog that turns into an unexpected meeting and an even further unexpected afternoon

Displaying Death and Animating Life Jane C. Desmond, 2016-08-18 The number of ways in which humans interact with animals is almost incalculable From beloved household pets to the steak on our dinner tables the fur in our closets to the Babar books on our shelves taxidermy exhibits to local zoos humans have complex deep and dependent relationships with the animals in our ecosystems In Displaying Death and Animating Life Jane C Desmond puts those human animal relationships under a multidisciplinary lens focusing on the less obvious and revealing the individualities and subjectivities of the real animals in our everyday lives Desmond a pioneer in the field of animal studies builds the book on a number of case studies She conducts research on site at major museums taxidermy conventions pet cemeteries and even at a professional conference for writers of obituaries She goes behind the scenes at zoos wildlife clinics and meetings of pet cemetery professionals We journey with her as she meets Kanzi the bonobo artist and a host of other animal artists all of whom are preparing their artwork for auction Throughout Desmond moves from a consideration of the visual display of unindividuated animals to mourning for known animals and finally to the marketing of artwork by individual animals The first book in the new Animal Lives series Displaying Death and Animating Life is a landmark study bridging disciplines and reaching across divisions from the humanities and social sciences to chart new territories of investigation

This Is Not a Copy Kaja Marczewska, 2018-02-22 In This Is Not a Copy Kaja Marczewska identifies a characteristic copy paste tendency in contemporary culture a shift in attitude that allows reproduction and plagiarizing to become a norm in cultural production This inclination can be observed in literature and non literary forms of writing at an unprecedented level as experiments with text redefine the nature of creativity Responding to these transformations Marczewska argues that we must radically rethink our conceptions of artistic practice and proposes a move away from the familiar categories of copying and originality creativity and plagiarism in favour of the notion of iteration Developing the new concept of the Iterative Turn This Is Not a Copy identifies and theorizes the turn toward ubiquitous iteration as a condition of text based creative practices as they emerge in response to contemporary technologies Conceiving of writing as iterative invites us to address a set of new critical questions about contemporary culture Combining discussion of literature experimental and electronic writing mainstream and independent publishing with debates in 20th and 21st century art contemporary media culture transforming technologies and copyright laws This Is Not a Copy offers a timely and urgently needed argument introducing a unique new perspective on practices that permeate our contemporary culture

Wildlife Research, 2014 On Roads Joe Moran, 2010-12-09 In this history of roads and what they have meant to the people who have driven them one of Britain's favourite cultural historians reveals how a relatively simple road system turned into a maze like pattern of roundabouts flyovers and spaghetti junctions Using a unique blend of travel writing anthropology history and social observation he explores how Britain's roads have their roots in unexpected places from Napoleon's role in the numbering system to the surprising origin of sat nav Full of quirky nuggets of history such as the day trips organised to see the construction of the M1 and the 2.5m Mills and Boons used to build the M6 Toll Road On Roads also celebrates innovators whose work we take for granted such as the designers of the road sign system On subjects ranging from speed limits to driving on the left and the non places where we stop to the unwritten laws of traffic jams these hidden stories have never been told together until now
