Re: Your Work with the West Vancouver Police Department

Dear Terry,

It has been almost three years since you took on the task of working with the Executive of the West Vancouver Police Department as we attempted to surf the wave that came from the troubled waters as a result of a couple of years of uncertainty, negative public scrutiny, poor morale, and low employee engagement. The employees of the WVPD have always been seen as dedicated, hard working, and committed to doing the best job possible. However due to a series of events, we were at risk of eroding the support of our public to the point where pressures to collapse our department would have been a viable options for our community leaders.

Over the last three years, you introduced us to the Continuous Improvement Team (CIT), which for the first time in the Department's history allowed our employees to become fully engaged in improving team performance and charting the character and image of our department. You then took the time to help me create an effective executive management team because of a set of negative circumstances that I inherited upon taking over as the Chief Constable. You helped the team design job profiles, task management processes, and helped me to capitalize on the hidden talents that already existed amongst my executive staff. Then you continued to check with me to ensure that I was on track.

As if that wasn't enough, you took the time to engage my mid-level leadership team to create job profiles and align them with an assessment process that actually made sense. With that, you went to great lengths to help my Staff Sergeants to step up to the leadership role and go above and beyond their normal duties for the betterment of our Department. While you were busy doing this work, these NCO's were clearly seeing that the executive management team had a stake in their personal
