

Problem-Solving Essay

Today the world has many issues, like hopelessness, prejudice, and selfish desires. The definition of the word moral is: concerned with the principles of right and wrong behavior and the goodness or badness of human character. In the world today there are few moral standards; we have numerous evil influences and few holy and godly influences. What does it mean to live honorably? It means that you respect yourself and others and live a life worth living. People have selfish desires to please themselves and not others.

The Bible tells us in 1 Corinthians 15:33 do not be deceived: "Bad company ruins good morals." The company we keep, the influences we are under, and the things we look at all directly affect our morals and ethics. Some of the things that affect us morally are, music movies, books, the Internet, the friends we have, and the relationship (or lack of) that we have with God. The way we treat others and ourselves is a huge part of our lives and the way we live them. We should strive to be like Jesus in all our endeavors. Matthew 5:48, you therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

Some of the ways that we could help the world regain moral standards are, leading by example, helping out or volunteering, and evangelism. The example we set should be an important priority for us as Christians; we should be Christ-like at all times. We could also help out the less fortunate, volunteering at charities or donating money; we should do our parts as Christ's messengers in the world. The final thing we could do is evangelism, the spreading of Christ's word. The world is a sinful place, and God will come soon and take his people from it. The morals that we have are vital to our character.

You could live honorably by, asking questions, figuring out what leads you astray, and helping fix it. James 1:22-25, but be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. Problem-Solving Essay By Abernathy

A History of the Royal College of General Practitioners John Fry, R.J.F.H. Pinsent, 2012-12-06 John P Horder President 1980-82 The first 30 years of the College have been an exciting experience for those most closely involved Some have already passed on but this account has been written soon enough for many of the actors to be historians Future members of the College will be grateful to them for what they have written as well as for what they did as a remarkably determined and harmonious team Students of twentieth century medicine in this country will also be grateful for a first hand account of the development of an institution which has been closely associated with and partly responsible for important changes in medical care and education Those who read these pages may wonder how the builders of this young College could have found time to do much general practice They did The three editors of this history which covers 25 years and the general practitioner members of the Steering Committee all ran large practices in which they worked very hard throughout that time Most of their work for the College was done during off duty hours weekends and holidays The College could not have developed as it did had they not been personally concerned with the practical problems and needs of clinical medicine This is also true of many of the contributors It is impossible to mention everyone who deserves credit The editors hope that they may be forgiven for any serious omissions
