impenetrable industry Written not from a post crisis perspective but from a preventative point of view this book traces the development of financial derivatives from bonds to credit default swaps and shows how mathematical formulas went beyond pricing to expand their use to the point where they dwarfed the real economy You ll learn how the deadly allure of their ice cold beauty has misled generations of economists and investors and how continued reliance on these formulas can either assist future economic development or send the global economy into the financial equivalent of a cardiac arrest Rather than rehash tales of post crisis fallout this book focuses on preventing the next one By exploring the heart of the shadow economy you ll be better prepared to ride the rough waves of finance into the turbulent future Delve into one of the world s least understood but highest impact industries Understand the key principles of quantitative finance and the evolution of the field Learn what quantitative finance has become and how it affects us all Discover how the industry s next steps dictate the economy s future How do you create a quadrillion dollars out of nothing blow it away and leave a hole so large that even years of quantitative easing can t fill it and then go back to doing the same thing Even amidst global recovery the financial system still has the potential to seize up at any moment The Money Formula explores the how and why of financial disaster what must happen to prevent the next one Something Doesn't Add Up Paul Goodwin,2020-02-27 Some people fear and mistrust numbers Others want to use them for everything After a long career as a statistician Paul Goodwin has learned the hard way that the ones who want to use them for everything are a very good reason for the rest of us to fear and mistrust them Something Doesn t Add Up is a fieldguide to the numbers that rule our world even though they don t make sense Wry witty and humane Goodwin explains mathematical subtleties so painlessly that you hardly need to think about numbers at all He demonstrates how statistics that are meant to make life simpler often make it simpler than it actually is but also reveals some of the ways we really can use maths to make better decisions Enter the world of fitness tracking the history of IQ testing China s social credit system Effective Altruism and learn how someone should have noticed that Harold Shipman was killing his patients years before they actually did In the right hands maths is a useful tool It s just a pity there are so many of the wrong hands about Hello World Hannah Fry,2018-09-18 Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize A beautifully accessible guide One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms Times UK If you were accused of a crime who would you rather decide your sentence a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers And would you agree to share your family s full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch where to go whom to date and even whom to send to jail But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime justice healthcare transportation and money they raise questions about what we want our world to look like What matters most Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused Hello World takes us on a tour through the good the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code By weaving in relatable real world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms Hello World helps us to determine their power expose their limitations and examine whether they really are improvement on the human systems they replace Quantum Economics David Orrell, 2018-07-05 A decade after the financial crisis there is a growing consensus that economics has failed and needs to go back to the drawing board David Orrell argues that it has been trying to solve the wrong problem all along Economics sees itself as the science of scarcity Instead it should be the science of money which plays a surprisingly small role in mainstream theory And money is a substance that turns out to have a quantum nature of its own Just as physicists learn about matter by studying the exchange of particles at the subatomic level so economics should begin by analysing the nature of money based transactions Quantum Economics therefore starts with the meaning of the phrase how much or to use the Latin word quantum From quantum physics to the dualistic properties of money via the emerging areas of quantum finance and quantum cognition this profoundly important book reveals that quantum economics is to neoclassical economics what quantum physics is to classical physics a genuine turning point in our understanding

Geopolitical Alpha Marko Papic, 2020-10-13 Forecast geopolitics and markets with this clear and insightful resource Geopolitical Alpha An Investment Framework for Predicting the Future provides readers with an original and compelling approach to forecasting the future and beating the markets while doing so Persuasively written by author investment strategist and geopolitical analyst Marko Papic the book applies a novel framework for making sense of the cacophony of geopolitical risks with the eye towards generating investment relevant insights Geopolitical Alpha posits that investors should ignore the media hyped narratives insights from smoke filled rooms and most of their political consultants and instead focus exclusively on the measurable material constraints facing policymakers In the tug of war between policymaker preferences and their constraints the latter always win out in the end Papic uses a wealth of examples from the past decade to illustrate how one can use his constraint framework to generate Geopolitical Alpha In the process the book discusses What paradigm shifts will drive investment returns over the next decade Why investment and corporate professionals can no longer treat geopolitics as an exogenous risk How to ignore the media and focus on what drives market narratives that generate returns Perfect for investors C suite executives and investment professionals Geopolitical Alpha belongs on the shelf of anyone interested in the intersection of geopolitics economics and finance Communicative Figurations Andreas Hepp, Andreas Breiter, Uwe Hasebrink, 2017-11-27 This open access volume assesses the influence of our changing media environment Today there is not one single medium that is the driving force of change With the spread of various technical communication media such as mobile phones and internet platforms we are confronted with a media manifold of deep mediatization But how can we investigate its transformative capability This book answers this question by taking a non media centric perspective researching the various figurations of collectivities and organizations humans are involved in The first part of the book outlines a fundamental understanding of the changing media environment of deep mediatization and its transformative capacity The second part focuses on collectivities and movements communities in the city critical social movements maker online gaming groups and networked groups of young people The third part moves institutions and organizations into the foreground discussing the transformation of journalism religion politics and education whilst the fourth and final part is dedicated to methodologies and perspectives Education Policy Stephen Gorard, 2018-09-05 What has been done to achieve fairer and more efficient education systems and what more can be done in the future Stephen Gorard provides a comprehensive examination of crucial policy areas for education such as differential outcomes the poverty gradient and the allocation of resources to education to identify likely causes of educational disadvantage among students and lifelong learners This analysis is supported by 20 years of extensive research based in the home countries of the UK and on work in all EU28 countries USA Pakistan and Japan This approachable rich text brings invaluable insights into the underlying problems within education policy and proposes practical solutions for a brighter future The Commercial and Financial Chronicle ,1917 Economic Evaluation of Cancer Drugs Iftekhar Khan,Ralph Crott,Zahid Bashir,2019-06-14

Cancer is a major healthcare burden across the world and impacts not only the people diagnosed with various cancers but also their families carers and healthcare systems With advances in the diagnosis and treatment more people are diagnosed early and receive treatments for a disease where few treatments options were previously available As a result the survival of patients with cancer has steadily improved and in most cases patients who are not cured may receive multiple lines of treatment often with financial consequences for the patients insurers and healthcare systems Although many books exist that address economic evaluation Economic Evaluation of Cancer Drugs using Clinical Trial and Real World Data is the first unified text that specifically addresses the economic evaluation of cancer drugs The authors discuss how to perform cost effectiveness analyses while emphasising the strategic importance of designing cost effectiveness into cancer trials and building robust economic evaluation models that have a higher chance of reimbursement if truly cost effective They cover the use of real world data using cancer registries and discuss how such data can support or complement clinical trials with limited follow up Lessons learned from failed reimbursement attempts factors predictive of successful reimbursement and the different payer requirements across major countries including US Australia Canada UK Germany France and Italy are also discussed The book includes many detailed practical examples case studies and thought provoking exercises for use in classroom and seminar discussions Iftekhar Khan is a medical statistician and health economist and a lead statistician at Oxford University's Center for Statistics in Medicine Professor Khan is also a Senior Research Fellow in Health Economics at University of Warwick and is a Senior Statistical Assessor within the Licensing Division of the UK Medicine and Health Regulation Agency Ralph Crott is a former professor in Pharmacoeconomics at the University of Montreal in Quebec Canada and former head of the EORTC Health Economics Unit and former senior health economist at the Belgian HTA organization Zahid Bashir has over twelve years experience working in the pharmaceutical industry in medical affairs and oncology drug development where he is involved in the design and execution of oncology clinical trials and development of reimbursement dossiers for HTA submission Organisational Behaviour Jack Maxwell Wood,Retha Wiesner,Rachel R.
