Genre Bending Jeremy Rosen, 2025-12-09 Detective horror fantasy romance science fiction spy thrillers westerns zombie novels In recent decades acclaimed and ambitious writers of literary fiction have increasingly gravitated to popular fiction genres In this comprehensive account Jeremy Rosen describes literary fiction's embrace of genre fiction's conceits as genre bending and argues that while literary writers adopt genres for a wide variety of purposes what they share is a revitalized attitude toward genre a recognition that while genres can be used in formulaic ways they can also be adapted and transformed endlessly Rosen reads across the outpouring of fiction of the last several decades by writers like Margaret Atwood Michael Chabon Jennifer Egan Louise Erdrich Kazuo Ishiguro Chang rae Lee David Mitchell Cormac McCarthy Ian McEwan Haruki Murakami and Colson Whitehead He finds that literary writers embrace of popular genres is the product of several seemingly contradictory forces including their attempt to extend a modernist inspired project of formal experiment to pursue high cultural prestige and to preserve the distinctiveness of the literary which they perceive to be under threat while also embracing the role of providing pleasure to readers Examining what today's most critically acclaimed and widely read literary writers have done with the genres of genre fiction Genre Bending reveals the values practices and forms as well as the tensions that constitute literary fiction today

an eloquent defence of the discipline Modern Austrian Literature through the Lens of Adaptation Catriona Firth, 2012-01-01 For decades postwar Austrian literature has been measured against and moulded into a series of generic categories and grand cultural narratives from nostalgic restoration literature of the 1950s through the socially critical anti Heimat novel to recent literary reckonings with Austria's Nazi past Peering through the lens of film adaptation this book rattles the generic shackles imposed by literary history and provides an entirely new critical perspective on Austrian literature Its original methodological approach challenges the primacy of written sources in existing scholarship and uses the distortions generated by the shift in medium as a productive starting point for literary analysis Five case studies approach canonical texts in post war Austrian literature by Gerhard Fritsch Franz Innerhofer Gerhard Roth Elfriede Jelinek and Robert Schindel through close readings of their cinematic adaptations concentrating on key areas of narratological concern plot narrative perspective authorship and post modern ontologies Setting the texts within the historical cultural and political discourses that define the Alpine Republic this study investigates fundamental aspects of Austrian national identity such as its Habsburg and National Socialist legacies The Art of Eloquence Matthew Bevis, 2007-08-09 Matthew Bevis examines the relations between public speaking and literary expression in the lives and work of Byron Dickens Tennyson and Joyce Paying close attention to the procedures languages and styles of oratory reported in the newspapers and Hansard Bevis offers a new understanding of novels and poetry in relation to the public sphere in the 19th and early 20th centuries The Victorian Mind's Eye Julia Thomas, 2025-01-12 The Victorian Mind's Eye Reading Literature in an Age of Illustration The Victorians lived in an age of illustration In a matter of decades words and images had become enmeshed and entangled printed alongside each other in a spectacular array of printed forms The exponential growth of illustration not only radically changed literature but also changed the way that literature was read This book offers a major conceptualisation of the difference that pictures made to the reading of words Analysing an extensive range of illustrated material and drawing on the accounts of Victorian readers reviewers authors artists and psychologists the book describes how the Victorians characterised the effects of illustration and how illustrations in turn elicited and anticipated responses from their readers What emerges from these sources is the notion of a distinct mode of reading that determined readers material and mental engagements with illustrated literature The presence of images on the page was said to impact on whether readers created images in their mind as they read Illustrations generated feelings of pleasure or displeasure they determined what was read first what was recalled and what was etched in the memory By peering into the recesses of the mind's eye this book identifies the cognitive mechanisms and cultural politics that were central to how the Victorians described their reading of illustrated literature It suggests the significance of these ideas of reading for understanding the place of illustration in Victorian culture and the relation between words pictures and historical values and meanings Illustration was fundamental to how the Victorians read and to how we read the Victorians Analyzing Digital Fiction Alice Bell, Astrid Ensslin, Hans

Rustad, 2013-12-17 Written for and read on a computer screen digital fiction pursues its verbal discursive and conceptual complexity through the digital medium It is fiction whose structure form and meaning are dictated by the digital context in which it is produced and requires analytical approaches that are sensitive to its status as a digital artifact Analyzing Digital Fiction offers a collection of pioneering analyses based on replicable methodological frameworks Chapters include analyses of hypertext fiction Flash fiction Twitter fiction and videogames with approaches taken from narratology stylistics semiotics and ludology Essays propose ways in which digital environments can expand challenge and test the limits of literary theories which have until recently predominantly been based on models and analyses of print texts The Erotics of Talk Carla Kaplan, 1996 African American women's texts she demonstrates often dramatize their distrust of their readers their lack of faith in the cultural conversation through strategies of self silencing and self talk At the same time she argues the homoerotics of women's writing has too often gone unremarked Not only does longing for an ideal listener draw women's texts into a romance with the reader but there is an erotic excess which is part of feminist critical recuperation itself
