Zeevi,2000-09-01 This volume presents the proceedings of the 2nd International Workshop ongebraic Frames for the Perception and Action Cycle AFPAC 2000 held in Kiel Germany 10 11 September 2000 The presented topics cover new results in the conceptualization design and implementation of visual sensor based robotics and autonomous systems Special emphasis is placed on the role of algebraic modelling in the relevant disciplines such as robotics computer vision theory of multidimensional signals and neural computation The aims of the workshop are twofold first discussion of the impact of algebraic embedding of the task at hand on the emergence of new qualities of modelling and second facing the strong relations between dominant geometric problems and algebraic modelling The first workshop in this series AFPAC 97 inspired several groups to initiate new research programs or to intensify ongoing research work in this field and the range of relevant topics was consequently broadened The approach adopted by this workshop does not necessarily fit the mainstream of worldwide research granting policy However its search for fundamental problems in our field may very well lead to new results in the relevant disciplines and contribute to their integration in studies of the perception action cycle ENC Focus,2000 Mathematics & Science in the Real World,2000 Journal for Research in Mathematics Education,2012

Introduction to High Performance Scientific Computing Victor Eijkhout,2010 This is a textbook that teaches the bridging topics between numerical analysis parallel computing code performance large scale applications Artificial Intelligent Methods for Handling Spatial Data Jörg Verstraete,2018-08-31 This book provides readers with an insight into the development of a novel method for regridding gridded spatial data an operation required to perform the map overlay operation and apply map algebra when processing spatial data It introduces the necessary concepts from spatial data processing and fuzzy rulebase systems and describes the issues experienced when using current regridding algorithms The main focus of the book is on describing the different modifications needed to make the problem compatible with fuzzy rulebases It offers a number of examples of out of the box thinking to handle aspects such as rulebase construction defuzzification spatial data comparison etc At first the emphasis is put on the newly developed method and additional datasets containing information on the underlying spatial distribution of the data are identified After this an artificial intelligent system in the form of a fuzzy inference system is constructed using this knowledge and then applied on the input data to perform the regridding The book offers an example of how an apparently simple problem can pose many different challenges even when trying to solve it with existing soft computing technologies The workflow and solutions to solve these challenges are universal and may therefore be broadly applied into other contexts Recent Trends in Algebraic
