Question: What happens when two tectonic plates?

1. Collision - Boundaries where two plates are moving towards each other. When the two plates are moving towards each other, it is called a collision. One plate can move faster than the other, so one plate can move faster than the other.

How would you describe the motion of plates in a collision zone?

The plates are colliding together and creating the land to move up - this is a mountain range.

2. Slip - One plate can move faster than the other plate and after the plate moves, there can be a slip which can move the plate faster.
