WORKSHEET

Global Population Distribution

Global population distribution shows where people live and how they are distributed. (Density of population)

Population Density

- The world's population is evenly distributed across the globe.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.

Population Density and Distribution

Some areas of the world are densely populated (crowded) with many people. Some areas are sparsely populated (empty) with few people.

Factors influencing where people live:

Physical factors: climate, topography, water, soil, vegetation, and land use. Human factors: population, economic activities, services, and relief.

Population density: the number of people living in a given area. It is calculated by dividing the total population by the total area.
