

Awe and Wonder

With Twilight Teach Meet

Delivered by
Alice Sharp

'Awe and Wonder' is now more important than ever. It reflects the life skills that children will need in the real-world, to be divergent and creative thinkers. When giving children these opportunities, it not only widens their experiences but enriches their communication and language.

Join us, in delving into the exciting world of 'Early Years'. An excellent opportunity to hear from those shaping Early Years, specifically focusing on our Trust Value 'Curiosity' and how we can promote this to help support and increase children's communication and language skills. As always, there will be plenty of ideas you can take back and implement in your setting almost straight away, giving you the tools and knowledge to enable you to create a culture of curiosity at the heart of your setting.

Attendance on this course will also entitle the school of the delegate attending to two places on the twilight Teach Meet that will follow on from the day training session. This will enable learning from the day time session to be disseminated wider across your school and increase potential for positive changes in practice to become embedded.
