

The background of the cover is a detailed illustration of a molecular structure. It features a large, central, red, translucent sphere with a grid of white dots, resembling a buckyball or a similar carbon-based molecule. This sphere is surrounded by several smaller, yellow, translucent spheres, also with a grid of white dots. The entire structure is set against a dark blue background with a pattern of white dots, suggesting a molecular lattice or a crystalline structure. The overall aesthetic is scientific and modern.
