Nickel Metal Hydride (NiMH) Batteries

Observe the following guidelines when using Nikon EN-ELH1 and EN-ELH2 NiMH batteries.

- Observe rechargeable battery safety charges. At all times, avoid shorting charges or the EN-ELH1 or EN-ELH2 battery charger battery lead set.

Batteries may become hot when charged. Observe this warning after handling batteries during or after charging.

Under certain charging conditions, heat buildup may occur, possibly resulting in after-charge venting or some reactions. This is a normal side effect of nickel-metal hydride technology.

- New batteries and batteries that have been left unused for an extended period tend to lose their charge rapidly; this is normal for NiMH batteries and the batteries will initiate a charge after being used and recharged successfully.

Batteries will become even warmer to touch as they are recharged more quickly if:

- The battery and charger terminals are covered thoroughly with a cleaning cloth before charging to remove fingerprints, and other debris that can slowly reduce battery performance.
- They are charged at an ambient temperature of 10–30°C (50–86°F).
- They are fully recharged until fully extended (just until the orange fuel light comes on) to help improve the use and re-charge battery on charging.
