MEMORIAL DAY 2023
Never forget.
Forever honor.

Northeast Ohio had near-perfect weather Monday to honor and celebrate those who have served and fallen for the United States. Shaker Heights held its Memorial Day ceremony at the Shaker Heights War Memorial outside of City Hall, with Shaker Heights Mayor David Weiss opening the ceremony. Shaker Heights High School students were showcased during the ceremony, singing the National Anthem, reading the Gettysburg Address and performing taps before marching in the parade. Later, a wreath was placed at the War Memorial before an honor guard performed a 21-gun salute and taps was played. Photos by Joshua Gunter, cleveland.com

EAST CLEVELAND

From convicted dump operator to prolific informant

George Michael Riley wore a wire for 10 months under the watch of anti-corruption FBI agents.

Cory Shaffer cshaffer@cleveland.com

Less than a month after firefighters extinguished the blaze that burned for a week at the former ARCO Recycling Center in East Cleveland, investigators from three federal law enforcement agencies sat down with the man who ran the disposal site.

George Michael Riley confessed that he hadn't paid taxes on the dump — or any of his businesses — in years. He also had multiple fraud convictions on his record. But that didn't stop him from becoming a key informant in the push to end corruption in East Cleveland.

Riley told the agents in a proffer interview in November 2007 that he had been paying cash to multiple East Cleveland officials in the five years since he began doing business there, a move to carry favor with the upper echelons of the cash-strapped city.

Over the next 10 months, Riley met with a former mayor, a former councilman, multiple current and former police officers and a Cuyahoga County Land Bank employee — all while wearing a wire and under the watch of some of Cleveland's top anti-corruption FBI agents, according to records obtained by cleveland.com and The Plain Dealer.

Riley became one of the most high-profile prosecutors in East Cleveland, but he has never been called to the stand to testify about his work for the government. His connection to the case then is a headlines for the last five years was largely kept under wraps.

And while it seems that federal prosecutors quickly ran with some of the things Riley had told them, much of the conduct he described in multiple interviews and phone conversations over several months never led to criminal charges in U.S. District Court.

Authorities never prosecuted Riley for the fire at the disposal site or how he managed his businesses. However, Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost's office sued Riley, his company and its co-founder, and a judge ordered them to pay more than $30 million combined, the largest civil penalty the state has won for an environmental disaster.

Riley is now at the heart of bribery charges against two former East Cleveland police officers stemming from his work as a confidential informant in 2018. Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Michael O'Malley's office brought the case to a grand jury late last year.

If a judge grants a request from one of the officers to withdraw his guilty plea and the case goes on, it could render Riley to the witness stand for the first time.

Riley, who also goes by the name Anthony Costello, now lives in Southeast Ohio. He could not be reached for comment. His attorney, County Prosecutor Michael O'Malley's office brought the case to a grand jury late last year.

THE BLAST
Riley is no stranger to having his credibility challenged in a courtroom. In one case, government attorneys would file as either party witness, a move that became a major issue. The case ultimately ended with federal prosecutors dropping the charges, including bribery, that were based on Riley's claims.

RETHINKING CHILD CARE

How child care cost one mother her job

Gretchen Cuda Krom gckrom@cleveland.com

Elizabeth Bailey is a mother of three. She has a college degree, and work experience. She is also a full-time stay-at-home mom, but not by choice. Sitting at her dining room table, the 30-year-old from Elyria tells how she worked her way through not just one but two divorces, marriages, children and motherhood in the midst of COVID-19, all while working full-time in 2022 with a full-time job as a payroll specialist.

She speaks articulately about her situation and, despite being unemployed by the time she was laid off, she exudes an air of confidence and professionalism.

It was, she says, a great job, where she was successful and felt supported and appreciated. She was even on track for advancement.

But the job was not to last. After just four months, she needed to find a new job because her childcare costs had increased yet again. Bailey says she had to face a harsh reality: she was losing money going to work.

Elizabeth Bailey was making $19 an hour as a full-time payroll specialist, but her weekly childcare bill was more than her weekly paycheck. Gretchen Cuda Krom, cleveland.com

"I was making $19 an hour full time, making barely enough to get by. It was practically my dream job," said Bailey.

But $19 an hour is only $260 a week, before taxes and payroll deductions like health insurance. The cost of her childcare was nearly $400 a week. Bailey quit. She now takes care of the children full time, and her husband supports their family as the sole wage-earner.
