The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2003 Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21

The study of students' motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays' 1996 model of writing. This model emphasized that writers' motivational beliefs influence how and what they write. Likewise, increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers' motivational beliefs about writing, especially their efficacy to teach writing, impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers. As a result, there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs. Historically, the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing. Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers' efforts contribute to students' writing. What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students' writing or serve as catalysts for teachers' actions in the classroom when teaching writing. This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students' and teachers' motivational beliefs about teaching writing. This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs, how they develop, cognitive and affective correlates, how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered, and how they are related to students' writing achievement. By focusing on both students' and teachers' beliefs, the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction. This Research Topic includes papers that address students' motivational beliefs about writing, teachers' motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing. Students' motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing, writing competence, attitudes toward writing, goal orientation, motives for writing, identity, epistemological underpinnings, writing and attributions for success/failure, as examples. Teachers' motivational beliefs include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students' competence and progress as writers, to provide additional examples. This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate, develop, are related to other cognitive and affective variables, how they are impacted by instruction, and how they are related to students' writing performance. Submitted studies can include original research, both quantitative, qualitative, or mixed methods, meta-analysis, and reviews of the literature.

Handbook of Research on Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Managerial and Leadership Psychology Johnson, Rick D., 2021-01-22

The subject of leadership and managerial psychology exists as a sub-branch of psychology within the fields of industrial and organizational psychology. There still appears to be ongoing debate regarding the core pathology for gaining managerial expertise in professional roles relative to having suitable leadership skills and managerial knowledge beyond the direct daily work involved in organizations. Professional organizations inherently include varied levels of sensitive human interactions, which further necessitates their management professionals to have leadership styles that are adjustable.

contingent on a given situation Relative to this edited book managerial psychology is being utilized in a way that may subsequently seek to develop a series of scientific theory principles where the focus is to develop managerial axioms that advance contemporary existing knowledge surrounding professional management logic The Handbook of Research on Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Managerial and Leadership Psychology provides value uncovered by a collaboration of generalists and specialists who bring professional managerial and leadership opinions to light through narratives and research inclusive of fundamental theory principles that can be applied in practice and academia This edited reference is focused on the enhancement of management research through managerial psychology while highlighting topics including business process knowledge management in diverse discipline situations and professions corporate leadership responsibility leadership of self and others and leadership psychology in a variety of different fields of work This book is ideally designed for leadership and management professionals academicians students and researchers in the fields of knowledge management administrative sciences and management leadership development education and organization development sub branches or specialty practices

Anti-Asian Racism and Public Health Aggie J. Yellow Horse, Anne Saw, Lan N. Doan, Gilbert C. Gee, 2024-02-20 Racist and xenophobic hate against Asian Americans in the midst of the COVID pandemic has been a significant threat to Asian Americans health stemming from a deeply rooted Yellow Peril ideology which racializes Asians as a threat to United States and Western culture including re imagining Asians as a diseased public health threat Studies have documented that Asian Americans who have experienced anti Asian racism during the pandemic report that they are more concerned about the racism than the pandemic itself and nearly one in five Asian Americans who experienced racism display racial trauma the psychological and emotional harm caused by racism jeep cherokee and comanche automotive repair manual ,2000 Complete Car Cost Guide 1997 IntelliChoice, Inc,1997-02 Principles of Trauma Therapy John N.
