Operational Working Group

The Operational Working Group (OWG) was established in 2013 to oversee the implementation of the Operational Plan. The OWG is a cross-functional group of senior executives from across the company, including representatives from the Operational, Financial, and Human Resources departments. The OWG's primary responsibility is to ensure that the Operational Plan is effectively implemented and that the company's operational performance is consistently strong.

The OWG meets regularly to discuss the progress of the Operational Plan and to identify any areas where further action is required. The OWG also provides a forum for senior executives to share their views on operational issues and to coordinate their efforts to address these issues.

Operational Performance Overview

The Operational Performance Overview (OPO) is a key performance indicator (KPI) that measures the company's operational performance. The OPO is calculated as the ratio of the company's operational performance to the industry average. The OPO is a leading indicator of the company's operational performance and is used to track the company's progress against its operational goals.

The OPO is calculated using the following formula: $\text{OPO} = \frac{\text{Company Operational Performance}}{\text{Industry Average Operational Performance}}$. The OPO is a key metric used by the company to assess its operational performance and to identify areas for improvement.
