Gopalakrishnan Ravichandran, Prof. Seeram Ramakrishna, 2021-12-15 Climate change is a hot topic these days as it makes our earth a hotter place to live in. Almost all the countries are working on their climate policy to do their part in reducing carbon emissions. Many global conferences and events have been happened in the past 50 years to control the global temperature rise. But still there is no evidence of significant improvement in reducing our global carbon emissions. Some of you might have thought about your role in combating climate change. To answer this we came up with this book which will help you to understand your carbon footprint and the possible ways to reduce the same. We have covered some of the products, events and activities in this book with which you can find the carbon footprint of the products which aren't covered in this book.

Commercial Energy Auditing Reference Handbook, Steve Doty, 2011. Updated and expanded this edition includes new material on early replacement business justification, lease arrangements and effect on ECM project interest, coordinating upstream/downstream set points, semiconductor fab, multi-stage HVAC air tempering, commissioning HVAC overlapping heating and cooling and much more. The book begins with the premise that when commercial facilities are subdivided into categories based on business type, many useful patterns can be identified that become generally applicable to the performance of an effective energy audit. The author discusses procedures and guidelines for a wide range of business and building types such as schools and colleges, restaurants and fast food, hospitals and medical facilities, grocery stores, laboratories, lodging, apartment and office buildings, retail, public safety, data centers, churches and religious facilities, libraries, laundries and warehouses. He also covers all focal areas of the building energy audit and assessment including building envelope, lighting, HVAC controls, heat recovery, thermal storage, electrical systems and utilities.
