Pure White Sheet Lear Lynch, Glenda McLaurin, LaKeshia Wheeler, Christina Ashford, Shirley Bolden, Deloyce Lynch, Terrance Blow, Dianne Bryant, Dorphelia Foster, 2014-12-31 For fifty years I was protected by two pairs of loving arms I ve cried on your shoulders until the storm passed over and all the pain was gone But today when I woke up Dec 12 2013 I realized I need to stand on my own letting go of the dreams that kept me and helped me to stand strong but now it s time for me to release the bondage and stand tall relying on Faith to carry me through The two of you have protected me and I know as long as I allowed you to you ll continue I can no longer take up that space I need to feel free inside God is trying to use me I keep fighting him all the way I ve blocked myself from others too fearful of the pain I know you both will understand that my next walk in life I have to go solo With God by my side I know I ll be okay If I ever need you I know you re not far away I will always feel your presence and see your smiling faces I ve been withdrawn most of my life blurred memories relying on the dreams to keep me Now here I am sitting in my kitchen and looking across the way I see a clearer path and footstep in my path I can no longer hold on to the sweet memories of the dreams but I will always remember them The inspiration the love the peaceful moments the safety and strength that they provided and now providing me with the courage to let go and find my way out of the foggy areas in my life to continue on my journey but it hurts me to let you know it will be without the two of you as my guiding light Nojoque Hinton Rowan Helper, 1867 Album Verses and Romantic Literary Culture Samantha Matthews, 2020 This is the first book to tell the story of the Romantic album and its original poetry It rediscovers a huge number of overlooked Romantic poems and reconstructs how albums and their owners were represented in print A Bibliography of D. H. Lawrence Warren Roberts, Paul Poplawski, 2001-04-19 This pre eminent bibliography for D H Lawrence was extensively revised updated and expanded by Paul Poplawski for publication in 2001 Perpetual Imagery MeLyssa D. Bailey, 2010-10-16 Most people skip over this portion of the book and get down to the nitty gritty Their curiosity and eagerness to critique the long awaited project keeps them from knowing the inspirations of the author and what the book is all about For those who actually take the time to read a book cover its back cover and its contents this is for you Why did it take so long for me to share this book with the world Why do I share it now How did I come up with the title for it Everyone wrote their first poem to their mother as a valentines project in first grade Remember that white card stock paper with the red and pink construction paper used to cut out hearts to glue on the outside for decoration The dotted line glued to card stock with that paste that either you were tempted to eat or did eat from time to time Watching the teacher write neatly on the board this simple poem Roses are red Violets are blue I am glad to have a mother like you Happy Valentines Day By the way I found that card at my mothers house the other day I thought the rhyming sentences were clever and fun I thought I was famous after creating that card My daddy would profess his love by leaving my mother little poems on her night stand before leaving for work I saw her smile and sometimes giggle after reading them I also heard my daddy reciting poems

around the house and I would ask him Where did you get that from He would say I wrote it I was amazed He wrote it and he memorized it I would thirst for more He would recite his poetry while we rode in his truck and he would sing spiritual songs all day long After my parents divorce after 26 years of marriage I wrote and dedicated a poem to him titled Listen Daddy when I was 16 One day he brought me a burger and gave me child support and I gave him that poem to brighten his spirit I wanted him to feel the love I still had for him though he wasnt a constant presence in my life any longer He stood on the porch and read it He cried He was happy He was proud He shared that poem with many and I in turn was proud My daddy a poet himself took his journey to eternal life the night of January 29 2010 The night was peaceful still and full of beautiful ice and abundant snow The meteorologist indicated the moon in the sky that night was the brightest of the year I thank God for 47 years of my life with him and I will miss his soothing voice and encouraging spirit I considered writing poetry a hobby I would write them and stash them away in a file or leave in spiral notebooks I chuckled during this process of deciding which to compile for this book and at what kind of paper I found my poems on spiraled paper memo pad paper the back of inventory sheets paper bags typewritten manual and electric on thumb drive hard drive some are on a diskette that I have no way of getting to I recall briefly sharing at events when asked and afterwards just file them away I wrote for fashion shows funerals weddings anniversaries family reunions class reunions as well as for my pleasure I had no idea anyone could possibly be interested in my inner thoughts and feelings or how I saw things in the world Some people knew I wrote but no one really was given my work to read Not until a man I was once married to said Fear is robbing you of your talent To overcome fear you have to take the chance What could happen If you fail at least you tried If you dont fail youll be living your destiny Not until I was surrounded by death and began to write about it that I thought I could possibly touch someone during the loss of their loved one Not until I fell in love and wrote about it that there were people out there that felt the same way Not until I had broken relationships I realized that there were people
