Suspended For Life C. Twiggy Billue, 2014-07-16 SUSPENDED FOR LIFE takes an empirical look via real experiences at how Zero Tolerance Policies contained in the schools Code of Conduct disregards the rights of the student especially students with disabilities These policies are failing students everywhere including my residence of Syracuse New York Statistically these unfair and biased Zero Tolerance Policies have led to very high suspension rates affecting mainly inner city students but overwhelmingly target students with IEPs 504 Accommodations the untested but suspected LD student and the intellectually gifted student Healthcare Mental Health and Medical Privacy HIPPA now play large roles in school especially in decisions to suspend a student however coupled with a school districts Code of Conduct they have become a crucial aspect for suspension Once you understand the link between a referral to In School Suspension ISS warehousing students or a referral for Out of School Suspension OSS push out of students you will realize that in most cases suspension can lead directly to the prison industrial complex for our young women and men Stopping this from happening to your student may depend on how well you are prepared to advocate for your child We must not allow suspension to push out our children because ostensibly it may be ensuring them a life sentence of unemployment crime or even death We say it starts at home with the parents so if we can better understand our student s rights and the rights we have as parents we can better prepare ourselves to advocate for our student and to hold the school district accountable for the Education of Our Children

Living in Data Jer Thorp,2021-05-04 Jer Thorp s analysis of the word data in 10 325 New York Times stories written between 1984 and 2018 shows a distinct trend among the words most closely associated with data we find not only its classic companions information and digital but also a variety of new neighbors from scandal and misinformation to ethics friends and play To live in data in the twenty first century is to be incessantly extracted from classified and categorized statistical data and surveilled Data our data is mined and processed for profit power and political gain In Living in Data Thorp asks a crucial question of our time How do we stop passively inhabiting data and instead become active citizens of it Threading a data story through hip-hop attacks glaciers and school gymnasiums around colossal rice piles and over active minefields Living in Data reminds us that the future of data is still wide open that there are ways to transcend facts and figures and to find more visceral ways to engage with data that there are always new stories to be told about how data can be used Punctuated with Thorp's original and informative illustrations Living in Data not only redefines what data is but reimagines who gets to speak its language and how to use its power to create a more just and democratic future Timely and inspiring Living in Data gives us a much needed path forward

Workers, Managers, and Technological Change Daniel B. Cornfield, 2013-11-11 Workers Managers and Technological Change Emerging Patterns of Labor Relations contributes significantly to an important subject Technological change is one of the most powerful forces transforming the American industrial relations In fact the synergistic relationships between technology and industrial relations are so complex that they are not well or completely understood We know that the impact of technology while not independent of social forces already has been profound it has transformed occupations creating new skills and destroying others altered the power relationships between workers and managers and changed the way workers learn and work Technology also has made it possible to decentralize some economic activities out of large metropolitan areas and into small towns rural areas and other countries Most important information technology makes it possible for international corporations to operate on a global basis Indeed some international corporations especially those based in the United States are losing their national identities detaching the welfare of corporations from that of particular workers and communities Internationalization facilitated by information technology has transformed industrial relations systems A major objective of the traditional American industrial relations system was to take labor out of competition
