David Weddle,2016-03-29 A probing biography of the enfant terrible of 1960s and 1970s film making exhaustive and endlessly intriguing Booklist Written by the film critic and historian David Weddle this fascinating account does critical justice to an important body of cinema as it spins the tale of David Samuel Peckinpah's dramatic overcharged life and the turbulent times through which he moved Sam Peckinpah was born into a clan of lumberjacks cattle ranchers and frontier lawyers After a hitch with the Marines he made his way to Hollywood where he worked on a string of low budget features In 1955 he began writing scripts for Gunsmoke in less than a year he was one of the hottest writers in television with two classic series The Rifleman and The Westerner to his credit From there he went on to direct a phenomenal series of features including Ride the High Country Straw Dogs The Getaway Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid and The Wild Bunch Peckinpah was both a hopeless romantic and a grim nihilist a filmmaker who defined his era as much as he was shaped by it Rising to prominence in the social and political upheaval of the late sixties and early seventies Peckinpah and his generation of directors Stanley Kubrick Arthur Penn Robert Altman broke with convention and turned the traditional genres of Western science fiction war and detective movies inside out No other era in Hollywood has matched it for sheer energy audacity and originality no one cut a wider path through that time than Sam Peckinpah

Communicative Understandings of Women's Leadership Development Elesha L. Ruminski, Annette Holba, 2012-01-01 Communicative Understandings of Women's Leadership Development From Ceilings of Glass to Labyrinth Paths edited by Elesha L Ruminski and Annette M Holba intertwines the disciplines of communication studies leadership studies and women's studies to offer theoretical and practical reflection about women's leadership development in academic organizational and political contexts Women's leadership development exists at the intersection of consciousness raising communication competence and education to increase one's knowledge and practice of leadership which makes the weaving together of these three disciplines important Thus Communicative Understandings of Women's Leadership Development claims a space for women's leadership studies and acknowledges the paradigmatic shift from discussing women's leadership using the glass ceiling phenomenon to what Eagly and Carli 2007 identify as the labyrinth of leadership Recognizing this metaphoric shift is crucial because many women now develop leadership amid the postmodern flux of organizational change hierarchical top down systems are being eroded in lieu of transformational collaborative even improvisational leadership processes Women's leadership studies is emerging as a fruitful interdisciplinary area that reframes the debate about whether we live work and learn within a third wave feminist or post feminist context While this area might include feminist theorizing it also might not emphasize such epistemologies For this reason Ruminski and Holba's edited collection explores and highlights a variety of feminist and non feminist intersections and is thus an important and timely contribution to both marking where we are with women's leadership development in higher education and how women can further develop themselves as leaders
