Berger,C. Lorenz,2016-01-19 Historians traditionally claim to be myth breakers but national history since the nineteenth century shows quite a record in myth making This exciting new volume compares how national historians in Europe have handled the opposing pulls of fact and fiction and shows which narrative strategies have contributed to the success of national histories

General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books,1965 Beyond Balkanism Diana Mishkova,2018-07-17 In recent years western discourse about the Balkans or balkanism has risen in prominence Characteristically this strand of research sidelines the academic input in the production of western representations and Balkan self understanding Looking at the Balkans from the vantage point of balkanism has therefore contributed to its further marginalization as an object of research and the evisceration of its agency This book reverses the perspective and looks at the Balkans primarily inside out from within the Balkans towards its self and the outside world where the west is important but not the sole referent The book unravels attempts at regional identity building and construction of regional discourses across various generations and academic subcultures with the aim of reconstructing the conceptualizations of the Balkans that have emerged from academically embedded discursive practices and political usages It thus seeks to reinstate the subjectivity of the Balkans and the responsibility of the Balkan intellectual elites for the concept and the images it conveys The book then looks beyond the Balkans inviting us to rethink the relationship between national and transnational self representation and the communication between local and exogenous Western Central and Eastern European concepts and definitions more generally It thus contributes to the ongoing debates related to the creation of space and historical regions which feed into rethinking the premises of the new area studies Beyond Balkanism The Scholarly Politics of Region Making will interest researchers and students of transnationalism politics historical geography border and area studies

Ghosts in the Middle Ages Jean-Claude Schmitt,1998 Using many different medieval texts Schmitt examines medieval religious culture and the significance of the widespread belief in ghosts asking who returned to whom from where in what form and why Through this vivid study we can see the ways in which the dead and the living related to each other Schmitt focuses on everyday ghosts recently departed ordinary people who were a part of the complex social world of the living Schmitt argues that beliefs and the imaginary depend above all on the structures and functioning of society and culture and he shows how the Christian culture of the Middle Ages enlarged the notion of ghosts and created many opportunities for the dead to appear Schmitt also points out that the church happily proliferated ghost stories as a way to promote the liturgy of the dead to develop pious sentiments among parishioners and to solicit alms on behalf of a relative or friend s salvation

Crusading in the Fifteenth Century N. Housley,2004-11-14 This collection of essays by European and American scholars addresses the changing nature and appeal of crusading during the period which extended from the battle of Nicopolis in 1396 to the battle of Mohacs in 1526 Contributors focus on two key aspects of the subject One is developments in the crusading message and the language in which it was framed These were brought about partly by the appearance of new enemies above all the Ottoman Turks and partly by shifting religious values and innovative currents of thought within Catholic Europe The other aspect is the wide range of responses which the papacy's repeated calls to holy war encountered in a Christian community which was increasingly heterogeneous in character This collection represents a substantial contribution to the study of the Later Crusades and of Renaissance Europe Enlightenment, Nationalism, Orthodoxy

Paschalis M. Kitromilides, 2024-10-28 The first section of this volume aims to examine various aspects of the impact of Enlightenment thought in the Balkans in the 18th and 19th centuries Particular topics include the idea of modernization with respect to the role of science or the position of women and the growth of new forms of political consciousness but Professor Kitromilides is throughout concerned with the conflict between these incoming political cultural and religious ideas and the traditions of Orthodoxy which had dominated the region under the Ottomans Of the articles a number focus specifically on the Greek world both before and after the creation of an independent Greek world and extend the coverage to include Greek communities beyond Europe Similarly the second part of the volume on dilemmas of nationalism looks also at Greek irredentism in Asia Minor and Cyprus The final item combines bibliographical additions with the author's further reflections on the subjects covered here and their historiography Romanian Scientific Abstracts, 1980 Christine de Pizan's "Epistre Othéa" Sandra Hindman, 1986
