D Act It Out! — From Page to Stage (Chapter 5)

This chapter opens with Lennie alone in the great barn. There is a description of the barn before Lennie is described sitting in the hay with a little dead puppy lying in front of him. Imagine that you are producing Of Mice and Men for the theatre. How would you direct this scene from the beginning of the chapter to when the clang of horseshoes is first heard outside?

1 Rewrite the passage as a script with stage directions. Consider the following points:

1. You need to guide the audience's attention. How do they start off with? How do you arrange this?
2. What atmosphere do you want to create and how would you do this?
3. After setting the scene, how would you direct the audience's attention towards Lennie? Would he have been there from the start? Would he have been facing the audience or have his back to them?
4. The disclosure of the death of the puppy is a shock after the tranquil scene setting. How would you achieve this? What effect after the puppy is revealed to be dead?
5. Would you use any music? What kind? Would it change or stop at a particular point? How would it add to the atmosphere you are trying to create?

How would you direct the actor to create a particular effect? Think about the various emotions that Lennie feels in the scene. How might you convey these in the volume and pitch of his voice? What notes might you give the actor playing him?

How do you want the audience to feel during this scene? How do you want them to react to seeing the dead puppy for the first time? What do you want them to feel towards Lennie? Sympathy? Pity? Anger?

2 In small groups, act out your script of this scene. Which version did you like best? Why?

U. M. Smith,2008-11-20 Since publication of the first edition huge developments have taken place in sensory biology research and new insights have been provided in particular by molecular biology. These show the similarities in the molecular architecture and in the physiology of sensory cells across species and across sensory modality and often indicate a common ancestry dating back over half a billion years. Biology of Sensory Systems has thus been completely revised and takes a molecular evolutionary and comparative approach providing an overview of sensory systems in vertebrates, invertebrates and prokaryotes with a strong focus on human senses. Written by a renowned author with extensive teaching experience, the book covers in six parts the general features of sensory systems, the mechanosenses, the chemosenses, the senses which detect electromagnetic radiation, other sensory systems including pain, thermosensitivity and some of the minority senses, and finally provides an outline and discussion of philosophical implications. New in this edition: Greater emphasis on molecular biology and intracellular mechanisms. New chapter on genomics and sensory systems. Sections on TRP channels, synaptic transmission, evolution of nervous systems, arachnid mechanosensitive sensilla and photoreceptors, electroreception in the Monotremata, language and the FOXP2 gene, mirror neurons and the molecular biology of pain. Updated passages on human olfaction and gustation. Over four hundred illustrations, boxes containing supplementary material and self assessment questions and a full bibliography at the end of each part make Biology of Sensory Systems essential reading for undergraduate students of biology, zoology, animal physiology, neuroscience, anatomy and physiological psychology. The book is also suitable for postgraduate students in more specialised courses such as vision sciences, optometry, neurophysiology, neuropathology, developmental biology. Praise from the reviews of the first edition: An excellent advanced undergraduate postgraduate textbook. ASLIB BOOK GUIDE. The emphasis on comparative biology and evolution is one of the distinguishing features of this self contained book; this is an informative and thought provoking text. TIMES HIGHER EDUCATIONAL SUPPLEMENT. Successful Enquiry Answering Every Time, 7th edition Tim Buckley Owen, 2017-04-11. Successful Enquiry Answering Every Time is designed to guide information professionals through all the stages of research from finding out what the enquirer really wants to providing a polished value added answer. When people want to satisfy their immediate curiosity they are much more likely to use a search engine on their mobile device than ask their local library. But while the days of personal intervention in this kind of enquiry are inevitably numbered, the professional skills that underpin them are not. This book uses technology as the enabler of the thought processes that information professionals need to engage in when answering enquiries and makes the case that new technology far from making them irrelevant, raises the skill stakes for all. Now in its 7th edition, this book is fully updated to cover new skills such as employing critical thinking to manipulate, categorise and prioritise raw search results, using strategic reading and abstracting techniques to identify and summarise the essential information the enquirer needs from the retrieved documents, drawing on established story telling practice to present research results effectively, whether orally or in writing, working to the POWER model, plan, organise, write, edit, review. This book is ideal for anyone who has to answer enquiries from users in any information role, those working in contact centres who are dealing with information enquiries processing transactions or trouble shooting technical issues and information professionals working on enquiry desks in large or small academic public school or special libraries Of Mice and Men Vocabulary Activities Kristen Kemp,2015-06-26 These vocabulary activities for Of Mice and Men incorporate key skills for college and career readiness The activities integrate vocabulary with a study of the text Includes text dependent questions definitions and text based sentences
