A Walking Life Antonia Malchuk, 2019-05-07 For readers of On Trails this is an incisive utterly engaging exploration of walking how it is fundamental to our being human how we've designed it out of our lives and how it is essential that we reembrace it I'm going for a walk How often has this phrase been uttered by someone with a heart full of anger or sorrow Or as an invitation a precursor to a declaration of love Our species and its predecessors have been bipedal walkers for at least six million years by now we take this seemingly arbitrary motion for granted Yet how many of us still really walk in our everyday lives Driven by a combination of a car centric culture and an insatiable thirst for productivity and efficiency we re spending more time sedentary and alone than we ever have before If bipedal walking is truly what makes our species human as paleoanthropologists claim what does it mean that we are designing walking right out of our lives Antonia Malchik asks essential questions at the center of humanity s evolution and social structures Who gets to walk and where How did we lose the right to walk and what implications does that have for the strength of our communities the future of democracy and the pervasive loneliness of individual lives The loss of walking as an individual and a community act has the potential to destroy our deepest spiritual connections our democratic society our neighborhoods and our freedom But we can change the course of our mobility And we need to Delving into a wealth of science history and anecdote from our deepest origins as hominins to our first steps as babies to universal design and social infrastructure A Walking Life shows exactly how walking is essential how deeply reliant our brains and bodies are on this simple pedestrian act and how we can reclaim it Peripatetic Frame Tucker Thomas Deane Tucker,2020-02-14 From cinema s earliest days walking and filmmaking have been intrinsically linked Technologically culturally and aesthetically the pioneers of cinema were not only interested in using the camera to scientifically study ambulatory motion but were also keen to capture the speed and mobile culture of late 19th century urban life Photographers such as Felix Nadar took their cameras into the Parisian streets and boulevards as mechanised fieurs ushering us into the age of the mobilised virtual gaze But if photography could only embalm modernity in an instant of time the cinema brought these instants to life again From Muybridge and Marey s photographic studies of motion to Charlie Chaplin s character The Tramp and from the Steadicam to the police procedural Thomas Deane Tucker explores the intertwined relationship between cinema and walking from its very first steps breaking new ground in motion studies and providing a bold new perspective on film history Shoe Shop Marie-Hélène Gutberlet,Cara Snyman,2012 Shoe Shop is an anthology and an experiment in imagining different paths speaking in different tongues on Africa movement public art migration beauty considering an innate humanity The book has been shaped to create a space for transformation and fluidity for care and for the sole pleasure of movement It is a site for loitering waiting but also for doubt and reserving a space to enquire Publisher s website The Essay Film Timothy Corrigan,2011-12-01 Why have certain kinds of documentary and non narrative films emerged as the most interesting exciting and provocative movies made in the last twenty years Ranging from the films of Ross McElwee Bright Leaves and Agn s Varda The Gleaners and I to those of Abbas Kiarostami Close Up and Ari Folman Waltz with Bashir such films have intrigued viewers who at the same time have struggled to categorize them Sometimes described as personal documentaries or diary films these eclectic works are rather best understood as cinematic variations on the essay So argues Tim Corrigan in this stimulating and necessary new book Since Michel de Montaigne essays have been seen as a lively literary category and yet despite the work of pioneers like Chris Marker seldom discussed as a cinematic tradition The Essay Film offering a thoughtful account of the long rapport between literature and film as well as novel interpretations and theoretical models provides the ideas that will change this A Companion to Werner Herzog Brad Prager, 2012-05-21 A Companion to Werner Herzog showcases over two dozen original scholarly essays examining nearly five decades of filmmaking by one of the most acclaimed and innovative figures in world cinema First collection in twenty years dedicated to examining Herzog's expansive career Features essays by international scholars and Herzog specialists Addresses a broad spectrum of the director's films from his earliest works such as Signs of Life and Fata Morgana to such recent films as The Bad Lieutenant and Encounters at the End of the World Offers creative innovative approaches guided by film history art history and philosophy Includes a comprehensive filmography that also features a list of the director's acting appearances and opera productions Explores the director's engagement with music and the arts his self-stylization as a global filmmaker his Bavarian origins and even his love-hate relationship with the actor Klaus Kinski The Nosferatu Story Rolf Giesen, 2025-06-12 Director F. W. Murnau's Nosferatu A Symphony of Horror made in 1921 after the devastating Spanish Flu pandemic has become the ultimate cult classic among horror film buffs around the world For years there was much speculation about the production background the filmmakers and the star German actor Max Schreck This greatly expanded new edition based upon rare sources and years of dedicated research tells the complete story of how a group of occultists established a leading film company that would produce a momentous series of horror movies Along the way other classic German fantasy silents such as The Golem The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari and Metropolis are discussed Featured in this edition are photographs documents and interviews including one with Dacre Stoker the great-grandnephew of Dracula author Bram Stoker A arte de caminhar Merlin Coverley, 2017-12-08 Merlin Coverley apresenta em A Arte de Caminhar uma reflexão acerca da atividade de caminhar e sua relação com a criação e a escrita Para isso vale-se de dados biográficos e das obras de autores de diversas regiões e épocas que tinham a atividade incorporada em sua rotina seja como simples caminhantes como peregrinos pedestres ou flâneurs Em comum a maioria desses autores tem na caminhada uma fonte inesgotável de inspiração e questionamento fortemente incorporada em suas criações Como a caminhada adquiriu esse status Por que algo tão básico como colocar um pé diante do outro adquiriu um valor tão elevado O autor apresenta e analisa algumas respostas possíveis The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1992
