Viewpoint and the Fabric of Meaning Barbara Dancygier, Wei-lun Lu, Arie Verhagen, 2016-03-21 This volume explores the cross linguistic diversity and possibly inconsistency of the span of linguistic means that signal reported speech and thought The integration of broad linguistic viewpoint in conversation and narrative and cognitive theory of mind and understanding the inner life and thought of others strategies for handling mixed points of view will be considered The New York Times Guide to Essential Knowledge, Second Edition The New York Times, 2007-10-30 Introducing a comprehensive update and complete revision of the authoritative reference work from the award winning daily paper this one volume reference book informs educates and clarifies answers to hundreds of topics

Sounding the Dance, Moving the Music Mohd Anis Nor, Kendra Stepputat, 2016-07-01 Performing arts in most parts of Maritime Southeast Asia are seen as an entity where music and dance sound and movement acoustic and tactile elements intermingle and complement each other Although this fact is widely known and referenced most scholarly works in the performing arts so far have either focused on music or dance rather than treating the two in combination The authors in this book look at both aspects in performance moreover they focus explicitly on the interrelation between the two on both descriptive analytical and metaphorical levels The book includes diverse examples of regional performing art genres from Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines All case studies are composed from the perspective of the relatively new approach and field of ethno choreomusicology This particular compilation gives an exemplary overview of various phenomena in movement sound relations and offers for the first time a thorough study of the phenomenon that is considered essential for the performing arts in Maritime Southeast Asia the inseparability of movement and sound Darwin's "Historical Sketch" Curtis N. Johnson, 2020 Curtis Johnson examines Charles Darwin's Historical Sketch creating profiles of the great thinkers writing before and during Darwin's lifetime

Performing Femininity Rachel Morley, 2016-12-15 Oriental dancers ballerinas actresses and opera singers the figure of the female performer is ubiquitous in the cinema of pre Revolutionary Russia From the first feature film Romashkov's Stenka Razin 1908 through the sophisticated melodramas of the 1910s to Viskovsky's The Last Tango 1918 made shortly before the pre Revolutionary film industry was dismantled by the new Soviet government the female performer remains central In this groundbreaking new study Rachel Morley argues that early Russian film makers used the character of the female performer to explore key contemporary concerns from changing conceptions of femininity and the emergence of the so called New Woman to broader questions concerning gender identity Morley also reveals that the film makers repeatedly used this archetype of femininity to experiment with cinematic technology and develop a specific cinematic language Race and Photography Amos Morris-Reich, 2016-01-11 Historian Amos Morris Reich here tracks the trajectory of racial photography from 1876 through the Weimar and Nazi periods in Germany and briefly after WWII With a particular focus on German and Jewish contexts Race and Photography reveals the important role of racial photography within academic discourse on race

Photography was not simply a medium of illustration but rather it was a conduit for new forms of visual perception Approaching the history of racial photography from an epistemic point of view raises questions concerning the similarity and specific difference of photography compared with other scientific media and makes explicit the scientific and cultural assumptions in which different uses of photography were embedded Paying particular attention to the effect of photography on concepts of visual perception and also to the intricate relationship between racial photography and the imagination Morris Reich examines numerous scientists and scholars both prominent and obscure who developed photographic methods for the study of race or made methodical use of photography for its study His careful reconstruction of individual cases conceptual genealogies and emergent patterns points to transformations in the scientific status of photography throughout the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and uncovers the agency of photographic media in the history of scientific racism This work makes a distinctive contribution to the fields of history of science history of photography intellectual history European and Jewish history and the history of race
