and its ambivalence about technology and the development it enables. It relies on various cultural conceptions of space among them the American Public Land Survey the source of the grid allotments shaping homestead claims Mexican era diseases and Native American traditions that defined a fluid relationship between human beings and the land. This animation of four California social novels of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries demonstrates how conflicts over space and place signify cultural conflict. It is deeply informed by the author's understanding of historical land issues. The works include Joaquin Miller's Unwritten History, Life Amongst the Modocs, Helen Hunt Jackson's Ramona, Frank Norris' The Octopus, and Mary Austin's The Ford. Miller's Unwritten History, Life Amongst the Modocs, and Jackson's Ramona examine the tragic but inevitable consequences for native people of making space inhabited already by Native American and Hispanic populations safe for Americans who pursue the agrarian dream without regard to its effects upon those who claim prior tenure on the land. Norris' The Octopus and Austin's The Ford examine the murkier story of trying to preserve or to reclaim the agrarian dream when confronted by the unchecked materialist interests of American capitalism. A wide reaching interdisciplinary approach to various cultural conceptions of space, The End of Eden provides a crucial understanding of the conflicts depicted in social novels that lament the ways in which land is allocated and developed the ways in which American agrarianism and its promise of local sustainable land use is undermined and how it applies to contemporary California. In an era where California confronts yet again the complicated patterns of land use fracking water use and water rights coastal regulation and management and agribusiness this groundbreaking work provides an ever relevant context.

Faith and Science at Notre Dame John P. Slattery, 2019-08-31 The Reverend John Augustine Zahm CSC 1851-1921 was a Holy Cross priest an author a South American explorer and a science professor and vice president at the University of Notre Dame the latter at the age of twenty five. Through his scientific writings Zahm argued that Roman Catholicism was fully compatible with an evolutionary view of biological systems. Ultimately Zahm's ideas were not accepted in his lifetime and he was prohibited from discussing evolution and Catholicism although he remained an active priest for more than two decades after his censure. In Faith and Science at Notre Dame John Zahm, Evolution and the Catholic Church, John Slattery charts the rise and fall of Zahm examining his ascension to international fame in bridging evolution and Catholicism and shedding new light on his ultimate downfall via censure by the Congregation of the Index of Prohibited Books. Slattery presents previously unknown archival letters and reports that allow Zahm's censure to be fully understood in the light of broader scientific theological and philosophical movements within the Catholic Church and around the world. Faith and Science at Notre Dame weaves together a vast array of threads to tell a compelling new story of the late nineteenth century. The result is a complex and thrilling tale of Neo-Scholasticism Notre Dame empirical science and the simple faith of an Indiana priest. The book which includes a new translation of the 1864 Syllabus of Errors will appeal to those interested in Notre Dame and Catholic history scholars of science and religion and general readers seeking to understand the relationship between faith and science.
