Ohio District Report Cards:

Poised for Progress Aaron Churchill, 2014 On September 12th Ohio released school report card ratings for the 2013-14 school year. This report compiles and analyzes the statewide data with special attention given to the quality of public schools in the Ohio Big Eight urban areas: Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, and Youngstown, both district and charter school sectors. Using the state's key report card measures, the performance index and value-added ratings, we assess the overall quality of each public school receiving these ratings in these areas and calculate the number of students in high quality seats in each area. The key findings are: 1. There are too few high quality seats in Ohio's urban areas. On average, just 16 percent of public school seats, including both district and charter, were high quality in the Big Eight. In contrast, 36 percent of public school seats were low quality. 2. High quality seats by sector: A higher proportion of charter seats were high quality (22 percent) compared to district seats (13 percent) in the Big Eight urban areas. 3. Low quality seats by sector: A slightly lower proportion of charter seats were low quality (32 percent) compared to district seats (38 percent) in the Big Eight urban areas. There is also variation in the performance of the charter school sectors across the Big Eight. The charter sectors in Cleveland and Columbus had considerably higher proportions of high quality seats than the district-run schools located in those cities. In Cleveland, 28 percent of charter seats were high quality compared to just 12 percent in the district. Meanwhile, in Columbus, 32 percent of charter seats were high quality compared to just 8 percent in the district. In other cities like Akron, Canton, and Toledo, the traditional district had higher proportions of high quality seats compared to those cities' charter school sectors. An appendix contains tables that provide the building level data for the following public schools in the Ohio Big Eight urban areas: 1. Akron, 2. Canton, 3. Cincinnati, 4. Cleveland, 5. Columbus, 6. Dayton, 7. Toledo, and 8. Youngstown.
