E-mailing and chatting with friends are children's most common online activities. But all too often, bullying and harassment takes place, with harmful results.

Discourses on Türkiye in the European Parliament Sezgi Erdoğan, 2025-02-12 This book analyses how Türkiye and Europe were discursively constructed through the representations of Türkiye in the European Parliament EP between 2007 and 2015. By providing an in depth analysis of the discursive representations of Türkiye in the EP the book discusses the European perception of Turkish identity and in turn reveals the different visions of Europe that these EP discourses relationally construct in Türkiye's de Europeanization process compared to its Europeanization process in the 1997-2007 term. This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Political Sociology, International Relations, Discourse Analysis, European Studies, Turkish Studies and Identity Studies.

Thinking about the Lifecourse Elizabeth Frost, Stuart McClean, 2013-11-25 How we change over time, who we love, what work we do, how we die is shaped both by internal and external influences. This book explores the important subject of human growth and development by combining the social context of how people live with their personal ways of thinking and being. The result is a greater understanding of why people are who they are. Taking a psychosocial approach to exploring human growth and development, this book provides an insightful exploration of the human life course by looking at significant life stages and key themes such as parenting, ill health and violence. Draws on both contemporary and classic research in the fields of psychology and sociology to deliver an in depth analysis of issues about self and society. Moves beyond traditional limiting approaches to understanding people's lives toward an interdisciplinary psychosocial approach. Whether you are studying on a Social Work, Nursing or related Health or Social Care degree or taking a course in the newly emerging field of Psychosocial Studies, this book is a clear and groundbreaking contribution to the understanding of human growth and development.

Towards a Resilient Regional Cyber Security Fitriani, Christian Pareira, Naufal Armia Arifin, 2019-01-31 The rapid growth of internet, digital social media and mobile users in Southeast Asia has increased the possibility of cyber misuse. The digital domain connects over half of the region's population, opening economic possibilities but also increasing their vulnerability to crimes and security breaches done via the internet. Aside from the cyber security challenges faced by individuals and businesses, national governments that increasingly provide their services online as well as manage physical infrastructures that are digitally connected have become more fragile toward cyber espionage and attacks. Furthermore, not only governments are obliged to protect national cyber security and the welfare of the population but they are also tasked to formulate regulations for private sectors operating in the cyber realm. Understanding such complexities, leaders of ASEAN have agreed to work together on cyber cooperation across the various platforms of the three pillars of ASEAN. This publication is an effort to increase public awareness of cyber issues faced by the Southeast Asian region as well as to share experiences from ASEAN countries in dealing with the complexities of cyber development and management. The cyber domain carries a great potential for economic development and source of employment but it is also a field of contestation for ideology spreading and power play. Notwithstanding the intricacies, cyber security is a cross-cutting issue that would benefit from the involvement of multiple stakeholders including governments, scholars, and practitioners.
