

Persuasive analytical essay

The purpose of a persuasive analytical essay is to present and argue for a particular position on a topic/issue which is under debate. When a lecturer reads a persuasive analytical essay written by a student, they want to see evidence that the student understands the particular topic/issue, is aware of the main positions in the debate and has selected their own position through a process of critically evaluating the main various perspectives. A successful essay is carefully organised and written to demonstrate to the reader how and why the writer came to hold their particular position. The annotated example below provides useful guidance in how to organise information within your essay and how to select language which helps to make your writing focussed, formal and impersonal.

Annotated Example of a persuasive analytical essay

This is an authentic example of student writing. Therefore you should not view this as a model – while it contains many attributes of a successful essay, it is not a perfect piece of writing. The comments on the right hand-side draw your attention to both strengths and weaknesses in the essay, but these are not comprehensive and as such you should not assume that sections of the article review which do not have comments are without problems. Additionally, you should not assume that the unannotated sections of the essay are without problems. Please note that the language in this essay is not without grammatical errors.

Please note that you are expected to write at a critical level when you are working at a postgraduate level. Critical writing extends and develops the skills used and displayed in persuasive evaluative writing. This essay is not an example of critical writing.
