Nickel Metal Hydride (NiMH) Batteries

Observe the following guidelines when using Nikon EN-ELH1 and EN-ELH2 NiMH batteries.

- Observe rechargeable battery safety charges. At all times, avoid shorting charges or the EN-ELH1 or EN-ELH2 battery-charger battery hot pack.

⚠ Battery may become hot when charged. ⚠ Observe the cautions after handling batteries during or after charging.
Under certain use conditions, batteries that become used in other portable electronic applications after charging with some chargers. This is normal and does not indicate a problem.

- New batteries and batteries that have been left unused for an extended period tend to lose their charge rapidly; this is normal for NiMH batteries and the batteries will initiate a charge after being used and recharged successfully.

Batteries will become even warmer to touch as they charge more quickly if:

- The battery and charger terminals are covered thoroughly with a cleaning cloth before charging to remove fingerprints, and other debris that can slowly reduce battery performance.
- They are charged at an ambient temperature of 10–30°C (50–86°F).
- They are not recharged until fully recharged (just until the orange hot pack shows 100%) to help prevent the use of a recharger battery on charging.
