Being a newsboy was a common job for children back in the late 1800s. Most employed boys were usually the ones taking jobs as newsboys because they needed to earn a living. They would use the money they made selling papers to buy papers to sell the next day and to buy themselves basic necessities.

Joseph Pulitzer and William Randolph Hearst were two of New York City's most powerful men at the time. Pulitzer owned the "New York World" and Hearst owned "New York Journal." They were the top newspapers in the city. Both newspapers were famous for their "yellow journalism" - sensationalized headlines that were often untrue.
