Science in New Guinea ,1989 Mathematics for Healthcare Krasimira Tsaneva-Atanasova,Vanessa

Diaz-Zuccarini,2018-09-28 In 1996 and with extraordinary prescience Panfilov and Holden had highlighted in their seminal book Computational Biology of the Heart that biology was potentially the most mathematical of all sciences Fast forward 20 years and we have seen an explosion of applications of mathematics in not only biology but healthcare that has already produced significant breakthroughs not imaginable more than 20 years ago Great strides have been made in explaining through quantitative methods the underlying mechanisms of human disease not without considerable ingenuity and effort Biological mechanisms are bewildering complex ever evolving multi scale variable difficult to fully access and understand This poses immense challenges to the computational physiology community that nevertheless has developed an impressive arsenal of tools and methods in a vertiginous race to combat disease with the tall order of improving human healthcare Mechanistic models are now contending with the advent of machine learning in healthcare and the hope is that both approaches will be used synergistically since the complexity of human pathophysiology and the difficulty of acquiring human datasets will require both deductive and inductive methods This Research Topic presents work that is currently at the frontier in computational physiology with a striking range of applications from diabetes to graft failure and using a multitude of mathematical tools This collection of articles represents a snapshot in a field that is moving a dizzying speed bringing understanding of fundamental mechanism and solutions to healthcare problems experienced by healthcare systems all over the world Educational Interfaces between Mathematics and Industry Alain Damlamian,José Francisco

Rodrigues,Rudolf Sträßer,2013-12-09 This book is the Study Book of ICMi Study no 20 which was run in cooperation with the International Congress on Industry and Applied Mathematics ICIAM The editors were the co chairs of the study Damlamian Straesser and the organiser of the Study Conference Rodrigues The text contains a comprehensive report on the findings of the Study Conference original plenary presentations of the Study Conference reports on the Working Groups and selected papers from all over world This content was selected by the editors as especially pertinent to the study each individual chapter represents a significant contribution to current research Resources in Education ,1998-05 Mathematics at the Margins Elizabeth Warren,Jodie Miller,2016-03-17 This book reports the impact a four year longitudinal study

Representations Oral Language and Engagement in Mathematics RoleM had on teachers and students from 16 schools in disadvantaged contexts It offers theories with regard to the interplay between teaching and learning mathematics as teachers and students in these contexts implement a mathematics program The data are longitudinal drawn from 154 teachers and their students up to 1738 students from the first four years of school Foundation to Year 3 To ascertain the effectiveness of the RoleM Professional Learning model teachers were interviewed three times a year and pre and post tests were administered to students at the beginning and end of each year Students results indicated that all students understanding of mathematics improved significantly with the ESL students showing the greatest gains Their results matched the norm referenced expectations for all Australian students of this age This book shares the journey of these teachers Indigenous teacher aides and students It outlines the dimensions of the research findings that supported teachers to become effective teachers of mathematics and assisted students in becoming successful learners of mathematics The book also draws on the expertise of researchers from both Canada and New Zealand They share the similarities and the differences between RoleM findings and their own contexts in order to draw general conclusions for the effective teaching and learning of mathematics at the margins of society

Better Doctors, Better Patients, Better Decisions Gerd Gigerenzer,J.A. Muir Gray,2013-01-11 How eliminating risk illiteracy among doctors and patients will lead to better health care decision making Contrary to popular opinion one of the main problems in providing uniformly excellent health care is not lack of money but lack of knowledge on the part of both doctors and patients The studies in this book show that many doctors and most patients do not understand the available medical evidence Both patients and doctors are risk illiterate frequently unable to tell the difference between actual risk and relative risk Further unwarranted disparity in treatment decisions is the rule rather than the exception in the United States and Europe All of this contributes to much wasted spending in health care The contributors to Better Doctors Better Patients Better Decisions investigate the roots of the problem from the emphasis in medical research on technology and blockbuster drugs to the lack of education for both doctors and patients They call for a new more enlightened health care with better medical education journals that report study outcomes completely and transparently and patients in control of their personal medical records not afraid of statistics but able to use them to make informed decisions about their treatments Private
