Nickel Metal Hydride (NiMH) Batteries

Observe the following guidelines when using Nikon EN-ELH1 and EN-ELH2 NiMH batteries.

- Observe rechargeable battery safety charges. At all times, avoid shorting charges in the EN-ELH1 or EN-ELH2 battery-charger battery box.

⚠ Battery may become hot when charged. Observe this warning after handling batteries during or after charging. Batteries may become hot due to heating and to other performance-related factors after charging under some conditions. This is normal and does not indicate a problem.

- New batteries and batteries that have been left unused for an extended period tend to lose their charge rapidly; this is normal for NiMH batteries and the batteries will reach a charge after being used and recharged several times.

Batteries will remain their capacity to make a charge more quickly if:

- The battery and charger terminals are cleaned thoroughly with a clean dry cloth before charging to remove fingerprints and other contaminants that can physically reduce battery performance.
- They are charged at an ambient temperature of 10–30°C (50–86°F).
- They are fully recharged completely whenever used until the orange full-charge display (100%) is displayed in the viewfinder before recharging.
