On recording with respondents, participants should be asked on the day of the test, directly to the respondent's account for the following: before using the service, whether the respondent intended to use the following service, and whether the respondent intended to purchase the respondent's service on the day they were visited. The service will then be recorded for each of the following: whether the respondent intended to use the service, whether the respondent intended to purchase the service, whether the respondent intended to use the service, and whether the respondent intended to purchase the service.

Students will often produce a sentence describing an event and then quickly translate it to the next step in the process. For instance, a child might say, "I'm washing my hands," and then say, "I'm drying my hands." The teacher can then ask the student to describe the next step in the process, such as "I'm putting on my shirt." This can help the student to understand the sequence of events and to use the correct vocabulary to describe them.
