Manual of Classification of Subjects of Invention of the United States Patent Office United States Patent and Trademark Office, 1912. Manufacturing Processes for Design Professionals Rob Thompson, 2007-11-30. An encyclopaedic guide to production techniques and materials for product and industrial designers, engineers, and architects. Today's product designers are presented with a myriad of choices when creating their work and preparing it for manufacture. They have to be knowledgeable about a vast repertoire of processes ranging from what used to be known as traditional crafts to the latest technology to enable their designs to be manufactured effectively and efficiently. Information on the internet about such processes is often unreliable, and search engines do not usefully organize material for designers. This fundamental new resource explores innovative production techniques and materials that are having an impact on the design industry worldwide. Organized into four easily referenced parts: Forming, Cutting, Joining, and Finishing, over seventy manufacturing processes are explained in depth, with full technical descriptions, analyses of the typical applications, design opportunities, and considerations each process offers, and information on cost, speed, and environmental impact. The accompanying step-by-step case studies look at a product or component being manufactured at a leading international supplier. A directory of more than fifty materials includes a detailed technical profile, images of typical applications and finishes, and an overview of each material's design characteristics. With some 1,200 color photographs and technical illustrations, specially commissioned for this book, this is the definitive reference for product designers, 3D designers, engineers, and architects who need a convenient, highly accessible, and practical reference. Rubber Processing and Production Organization P.K. Freakley, 2012-12-06. The absence of a book dealing with rubber processing has been apparent for some time, and it is surprising that a straightforward text has not been produced. However, this book goes far beyond the scope of a simple technical approach and deals with the full spectrum of activities which lead to successful and profitable product manufacture. The need to deliver a product to a customer at the right time, at the right cost, and at the right quality is a basic premise on which the book is based. The increasingly stringent demands of customers for products that can be introduced directly into an assembly or production line without goods-inwards inspection are placing increasing pressures on the manufacturer As a result it is becoming essential to achieve and sustain product quality and consistency by the monitoring and control of manufacture at a level which renders all products saleable The book has been written to satisfy the needs of practitioners in the rubber industry and is certainly not another descriptive text which is only read for interest when more important matters are not pressing My close cooperation with Philip K Freakley during the writing of the book has resulted in the incorporation of many of the viewpoints and methods which I have developed and refined during more than 38 years in the rubber industry
