collection advocates the need for childhood studies to zoom out from a predisposition to isolate the child which has been seen as a necessary part of conceptualizing childhood. As a result, the book focuses on a context for childhoods through a consideration of both structure and agency and through this seeks to recognise the interconnected nature of the arenas within which children live their everyday lives. A range of themes are covered including the education system, identity within the home, suicide in communities and younger children's political engagement and sense of belonging.
