Strategic Adjustment and the Rise of China Robert S. Ross, Øystein Tunsjø, 2017-06-20 Strategic Adjustment and the Rise of China demonstrates how structural and domestic variables influence how East Asian states adjust their strategy in light of the rise of China including how China manages its own emerging role as a regional great power The contributors note that the shifting regional balance of power has fueled escalating tensions in East Asia and suggest that adjustment challenges are exacerbated by the politics of policymaking International and domestic pressures on policymaking are reflected in maritime territorial disputes and in the broader range of regional security issues created by the rise of China Adjusting to power shifts and managing a new regional order in the face of inevitable domestic pressure including nationalism is a challenging process Both the United States and China have had to adjust to China's expanded capabilities China has sought an expanded influence in maritime East Asia the United States has responded by consolidating its alliances and expanding its naval presence in East Asia The region's smaller countries have also adjusted to the rise of China They have sought greater cooperation with China even as they try to sustain cooperation with the United States As China continues to rise and challenge the regional security order the contributors consider whether the region is destined to experience increased conflict and confrontation Contributors Ian Bowers Norwegian Defence University College and Norwegian Institute for Defence Studies Daniel W Drezner Tufts University Brookings Institution and Washington Post Taylor M Fravel Massachusetts Institute of Technology Bjørn Elias Mikalsen Grønning Norwegian Defence University College and Norwegian Institute for Defence Studies Chung in Moon Yonsei University and Chairman Presidential Committee on Northeast Asia Cooperation Initiative Republic of Korea James Reilly University of Sydney Robert S Ross Boston College and Harvard University Randall L Schweller The Ohio State University Øystein Tunsjø Norwegian Defence University College and the Norwegian Institute for Defence Studies Wang Dong Peking University The Marshall Plan Michael Holm, 2016-11-10 Between 1948 and 1951 the Marshall Plan delivered an unprecedented 12.3 billion in U.S. aid to help Western European countries recover from the destruction of the Second World War and forestall Communist influence in that region The Marshall Plan A New Deal for Europe examines the aid program its ideological origins and explores how ideas about an Americanized world order inspired and influenced the Marshall Plan's creation and execution The book provides a much needed re-examination of the Plan enabling students to understand its immediate impact and its political social and cultural legacy Including essential primary documents this concise book will be a key resource for students of America's role in the world at mid-century Proceedings of the United States Naval Institute United States Naval Institute, 2015-07 China's Global Engagement Jacques deLisle, Avery Goldstein, 2017-05-30 Assessing China's rapidly changing role on the international stage China is again undergoing a period of significant transition Internally China's leaders are addressing challenges to the economy and other domestic issues after three decades of dramatic growth and reforms President Xi Jinping and other leaders also are refashioning foreign policy to better fit what they see as China's place in the world. This has included a more proactive approach to trade and related international economic affairs, a more vigorous approach to security matters and a more focused engagement on international cultural and educational affairs. In this volume, China specialists from around the world explore key issues raised by a changing China's interaction with a changing world. They chronicle China's emergence as a more capable actor whose engagement is reshaping international affairs in many dimensions. These include global currency and trading systems, patterns of cooperation and competition in technological innovation, economic and political trends in the developing world, the American-led security order in the Asia-Pacific region, the practice of international military and humanitarian intervention, the use of naval power, the role of international law in persistent territorial and maritime disputes in the East and South China Seas, the international human rights regime, the circulation of Chinese talent trained abroad, a more globalized film industry and programs to reshape global cultural awareness about China through educational initiatives. Across these diverse areas, China's capacity and desire to influence events and outcomes have risen markedly. The results so far are mixed and the future trajectory remains uncertain. But across the wide range of issues addressed in this book, China has become a major and likely an enduring participant.

The Horn Engaging the Gulf Aleksi Ylönen, 2023-12-28 This book discusses theoretical perspectives of analyzing the relations between the states and non-state actors in the Horn of Africa and their counterparts in the Persian Gulf and the Middle East. Crucially, these relations are examined primarily from the perspective of the diplomatic, economic and strategic agency of the African states and societal actors. Here, domestic political dynamics and local power play a significant role. Aleksi Ylönen provides a historically informed investigation of recent relations that involve the Gulf States and Türkiye's resurgent interest in the Horn of Africa. The analysis focuses on the post-Arab Spring period following the Iran nuclear deal and the war in Yemen. Featuring case studies from Ethiopia, Somalia and Eritrea which highlight engagements of the Horn state and societal actors primarily with the Gulf States and Türkiye, the study provides an empirical analysis of the interactions and connections between the two regions.
