Thinking Tools for Young Readers and Writers Carol Booth Olson, Angie Balius, Emily McCourtney, Mary Widtmann, 2018
In her new book bestselling author and professional developer Carol Booth Olson and colleagues show teachers how to help young readers and writers construct meaning from and with texts This practical resource offers a rich array of research based teaching strategies activities and extended lessons focused on the thinking tools employed by experienced readers and writers It shows teachers how to draw on the natural connections between reading and writing and how cognitive strategies can be embedded into the teaching of narrative informational and argumentative texts Including artifacts and written work produced by students across the grade levels the authors connect the cognitive and affective domains for full student engagement This book seamlessly bridges the gap from research to everyday practice You get an extremely well organized set of overarching instructional principles that are right for our era and brought to life through well explained instructional guides and classroom activities From the Foreword by Judith Langer University at Albany SUNY I have always admired Carol Booth Olson s work with secondary students and teachers She now applies those essential principles and practices to elementary and middle school students Bravo P David Pearson professor emeritus University of California Berkeley

Marvelous Minilessons for Teaching Nonfiction Writing K-3 Lori Jamison Rog, 2015-12-11 Today s young learners know more about their world than ever before This remarkable book shows that even our youngest writers can consider audience and purpose as they use nonfiction writing to document their ideas and share those ideas with others But if students are going to be able to use writing to learn they must have opportunities for learning to write That s what this book is for A wealth of hands on minilessons offer strategies for writing informational persuasive and procedural text Each lesson starts with a learning goal and follows an I do we do you do format Teachers will find a wealth of ideas for guiding young students to write about what they know and care about

Making Everyday Choices Lin Josephson, 2018-06-18 This book will serve as a Think Button for any educator who has ever heard a student say I can t think or I can t decide Fifty prompts or thinking conduits are the catalysts that will give students a chance to practice thinking The prompts many with option answers are formatted as brief stories exercises poems and activities and are designed so kids can use the same thinking skill sets that are essential in making everyday decisions Whether the prompts pose silly questions Would you rather bathe a gorilla or take an elephant for a walk or practical ones What s the best way to express your opinion they are all crafted to spur children to think hard and sensibly so they can make levelheaded decisions and defend their thinking in a stress free think forum environment The intention is for students to take the essence of something they ve learned from a prompt and adapt it stretch it and use it to help solve a problem or make a tough decision Every prompt comes with guidance explanations and suggestions so educators can clarify why certain options or decisions are better than others and respond to thinking choices and decisions students may have made

A Cyclical Model of Literacy Learning Adrienne Minnery, Antony

T. Smith, 2024 This book introduces the Cycle of Responsibility COR model the next step in the evolution of the Gradual Release of Responsibility model which has been a conceptual mainstay of literacy education for decades This new model shifts the current linear model to a cyclical process of multifaceted interactions that better reflect the complexities of early literacy and with an emphasis on constructing knowledge together in the context of vibrant learning communities Focused on reading writing and word study in the primary grades the COR is put into motion through five key motivators challenge creativity collaboration choice and independence Vignettes demonstrate how to enact COR in classroom contexts This practical resource is based on the authors shared research and teaching experiences in employing the COR to empower children as literacy learners and teachers as agents of impactful instruction Book Features Presents the Cycle of Responsibility model a new field tested teaching and learning model Moves away from linear task completion to a cyclical collaborative process that reflects the energetic complex and creative world of classrooms Provides a teacher centric approach that emphasizes shared construction of knowledge and the forces that motivate young learners Includes vignettes from the author s first grade classroom to illustrate ideas in practice as well as a chapter on teacher professional learning

Candace R. Kuby,Tara Gutshall Rucker,2016-04-15 This book provides an introduction to poststructural and posthumanist theories in order to imagine new possibilities for expanding literacy education The authors put to work these theories in the context of an elementary school classroom examining literacy based activities that occur as students participate with materials in a multimedia writers studio Focusing on literacy processes the book emphasizes the fluid and sometimes unintentional ways multimodal artifacts come into being through intra actions with human and nonhuman materials Because these theories emphasize the unplanned nonlinear aspects of literacy the authors demonstrate an approach to literacy that works against the grain of standardization and rigid curricular models Go Be a Writer reveals that when educators appreciate the value of unscripted intra actions they allow for more authentic learning □□□ □□□ □□□ □□□,2023-11-06 0%
