Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino, Gustav Ranis, 2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development Country Reports on Human Rights Practices ,2003 Congressional Record United States. Congress,1976 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873 This Week in South Africa ,1995 Resilience, Entrepreneurship and ICT Jantje Halberstadt,Jorge Marx Gómez,Jean Greyling,Tulimevava Kaunapawa Mufeti,Helmut Faasch,2021-09-27 This book is based on the work of the YEEES Research Centre an international network of scientists from partner universities in Germany Mozambique Namibia and South Africa It presents inter and transdisciplinary research that explores different ways of understanding resilience an essential characteristic for systems organizations and people providing them with strength in the face of attacks and challenges and both enabling and fostering constant adaptation and improvement Building resilience to face today s ever changing societal and environmental realities requires unbiased research activities that transcend the borders of countries and academic disciplines alike The research addressed in this book thus is multidisciplinary and includes contributions to areas such as sustainable agriculture entrepreneurial ecosystems and smart communities as well as groundbreaking work on skills development and ICT education Highlighting the variety of research activities and their outcomes this book offers a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners in the fields of sustainable resilience development New Statesman Society ,1995 Region-Building in Southern Africa Chris Saunders,Gwinyayi Albert Dzinesa,Dawn Nagar,2013-07-04 How successful have Southern African states been in dealing with the major issues that have faced the region in recent years What could be done to produce more cohesive and effective region building in Southern Africa In this original and wide ranging volume which draws on an interdisciplinary team of mainly African and African based specialists the key political socio economic and security challenges facing Southern Africa today are addressed These include the various issues confronting the Southern African Development Community SADC and its institutions such as HIV AIDS migration and xenophobia land grabbing and climate change and the role of the main external actors involved with the region including the United Nations the European Union the United States and China The book also looks at the Southern African Customs Union and Southern African Development Finance Institutions including the Development Bank of Southern Africa and Industrial Development Corporation and issues of gender and peacebuilding In doing so the book goes to the heart of analyzing the effectiveness of SADC and other regional organisation suggesting how region building in Southern Africa may be compared with similar attempts elsewhere in Africa and other parts of the world

The Making of an African Working Class Pnina Werbner, 2014-07-20 It is now 50 years since E P Thompson published his classic The Making of the English Working Class The Making of an African Working Class follows Thompson in exploring the formation of working class identity among low paid African workers In arguing for a radical public anthropology of worker identity the book seeks to analyse the cultural legal ideological and experiential dimensions of labour activism often neglected in other labour studies Pnina Werbner shows that by fusing cosmopolitan and local popular cultural forms of protest unionists have created a distinctive vernacular way of being a worker in Botswana one that does not deny workers roots at home or in the countryside while being cognisant of a wider world of cosmopolitan labour rights The assertion of working class dignity honour and respect Pnina argues is a powerful motivating force for manual workers Against legal sceptical approaches The Making of an African Working Class argues that in challenging the government their employer in court manual workers protests and mobilisation are deeply embedded in ethics social justice and the law

Property Law in Namibia Prof Sam Amoo, 2014-06-16 Property Law in Namibia provides an autochthonous discussion of property law in Namibia It does not only capture the constitutional statutory and common law sources of property law in Namibia but it also covers currently topical subjects such as property rights of women and land reform in Namibia The publication is meant to be utilised by law academics property law lecturers legal practitioners and conveyancers law students students pursuing specialised land related programmes such as land use planning and officials in government ministries Property Law in Namibia contains chapters on traditional concepts of property law such as the scope and nature of the law of property classifications of things real rights and personal rights ownership and possession Chapter 9 is devoted entirely to remedies which is a departure from the norm but where relevant appropriate remedies are indicated in the specific parts of the text In order to give prominence to Namibian property jurisprudence topics on the genesis of the land tenure systems of Namibia land reform and property rights of women in Namibia have either been dealt with in separate chapters or been included as parts of other chapters This publication is meant to be utilised by law academics property law lecturers legal practitioners and conveyancers law students students pursuing specialised land related programmes such as land use planning and officials

The Skills Balancing Act in Sub-Saharan Africa Omar Arias, David K. Evans, Indhira Santos, 2019-01-31 Despite strong recent economic growth Sub Saharan Africa has levels of economic transformation poverty reduction and skill development far below those of other regions Smart investments in developing skills aligned with the policy goals of productivity growth inclusion and adaptability can help to accelerate the region s economic transformation in the 21st century Sub Saharan Africa s growing working age population presents a major opportunity to increase shared prosperity Countries in the region have invested heavily in building skills public expenditure on education increased sevenfold over the past 30 years and more children are in school today than ever before Yet systems for building skills in this population have fallen short and these shortcomings significantly impede economic prospects. In half of the countries fewer than two in every three children complete primary school even fewer reach and complete higher levels of education. Learning outcomes have been persistently poor leading to substantial gaps in basic cognitive skills literacy and numeracy among children young people and adults. The literacy rate of the adult population is below 50 percent in many countries functional literacy and numeracy rates are even lower. Systemwide change is required to achieve significant progress. Multiple agencies at the central and local levels are involved in skills development strategies making skills everyone's problem but no one's responsibility. Policies and reforms need to build capacity for evidence based policies and create incentives to align the behaviors of all stakeholders with the pursuit of national skills development goals. The Skills Balancing Act in Sub Saharan Africa Investing in Skills for Productivity Inclusivity and Adaptability lays out evidence to inform the policy choices that countries will make in skill investments. Each chapter addresses a set of specific questions drawing on original analysis and synthesis of existing studies to explore key areas: How the skills appropriate to each stage of the life cycle are acquired and what market and institutional failures affect skills formation. What systems are needed for individuals to access these skills including family investments private sector institutions schools and other public programs. How those systems can be strengthened. How the most vulnerable individuals those who fall outside the standard systems and have missed critical building blocks in skills acquisition can be supported. Countries will face trade offs often stark ones that will have distributional impacts and a bearing on their development path. Committed leaders reform coalitions and well coordinated policies are essential for taking on the skills balancing act in Sub Saharan Africa.

Urban Geography Michael Pacione, 2005. The second edition of Urban Geography continues to provide an authoritative and stimulating global introduction to the study of towns and cities. The text synthesizes a wealth of material to provide unrivalled depth and breadth for students of urban geography drawing on a rich blend of theoretical and empirical information with which to advance the knowledge of the city. The new edition has been extensively revised to reflect feedback from users and to incorporate the latest research and developments in the field. The text is divided into six main parts that explain and discuss the field of urban geography and the importance of a global perspective: the historical growth of cities from the earliest times and the urban geography of the major world regions; the dynamics of urban structure and land use change in Western cities; economy society and politics in the Western city; the economic social political and environmental challenge faced by the third world city; an overview on the future of cities and cities of the future. Featuring over one hundred and eighty case study and explanatory boxes this book draws insights from across the globe and contains a glossary of key terms and words chapter summaries key points study questions and annotated further reading.
