The Book Before Printing David Diringer, 2013-01-17 A remarkable work For sheer weight of information there is no equal to it The Spectator It is probable that the earliest books were written on wood or leaves as early as the fourth millennium B C These fragile materials unfortunately have not come down to us In their absence the earliest surviving books are the clay tablets of Mesopotamia the oldest attributed to c 3500 B C On these ancient clay shards dense rows of cuneiform script record the seminal writings of mankind the Gilgamesh epic Sumerian literary catalogues Babylonian astrology Assyrian accounts of the Creation and the Flood and the Lipit Ishtar Law Code c 2000 B C predating Hammurabi and the oldest law code in human history Probably as ancient as the Mesopotamian writings or nearly so are Egyptian hieroglyphics In a sense it is the papyrus scrolls of the Egyptians preserved by that country's hot dry climate that represent the true ancestors of the modern book As the centuries passed papyrus slowly gave way to parchment the prepared skins of animals as writing material Indeed the handwritten parchment or vellum codex is the book par excellence of the Middle Ages Western European book production is only part of the story and the author is at pains to illuminate the bibliographic contributions of numerous peoples and cultures Greek and Roman book production books made in central and southern Asia the books of Africa pre Columbian America and the Far East material that is often not mentioned in Western histories of the book Based on years of painstaking research and incorporating a wealth of new material and conclusions the text is enhanced throughout by abundant illustrations nearly 200 photographic facsimiles of priceless manuscripts in museums and libraries around the world

Learning Outside the Primary Classroom Fred Sedgwick, 2012-05-31 We believe that every young person should experience the world beyond the classroom as an essential part of learning and personal development whatever their age ability or circumstances Learning outside the classroom is about raising achievement through an organised powerful approach to learning in which direct experience is of prime importance LOTC Initiative manifesto In Learning Outside the Primary Classroom the educationalist and writer Fred Sedgwick explores in a practical way the many opportunities for intense learning that children and teachers can find outside the confines of the usual learning environment the classroom This original work is based on tried and tested methods from UK primary schools The author draws on current concerns in the educational world regarding outdoor learning as exemplified by the eight sector Learning Outside the Classroom LOtC initiative supported by Ofsted but remains refreshingly independent in approach Using a metaphor of concentric circles Learning Outside the Primary Classroom starts with a brief opening chapter based in the classroom itself before moving outwards to explore the learning possibilities presented by the immediate environs of the school playgrounds gym halls sports fields etc Later chapters move beyond the school gates to explore the local shops parks religious centres libraries and town halls and the myriad learning opportunities they represent The final chapters explore the possibilities of larger scale day trips to major galleries and museums and more ambitious field trips
