

Remember that walls on the exterior side and floor panels through the ceiling have a recessed air flow compartment on the inside.

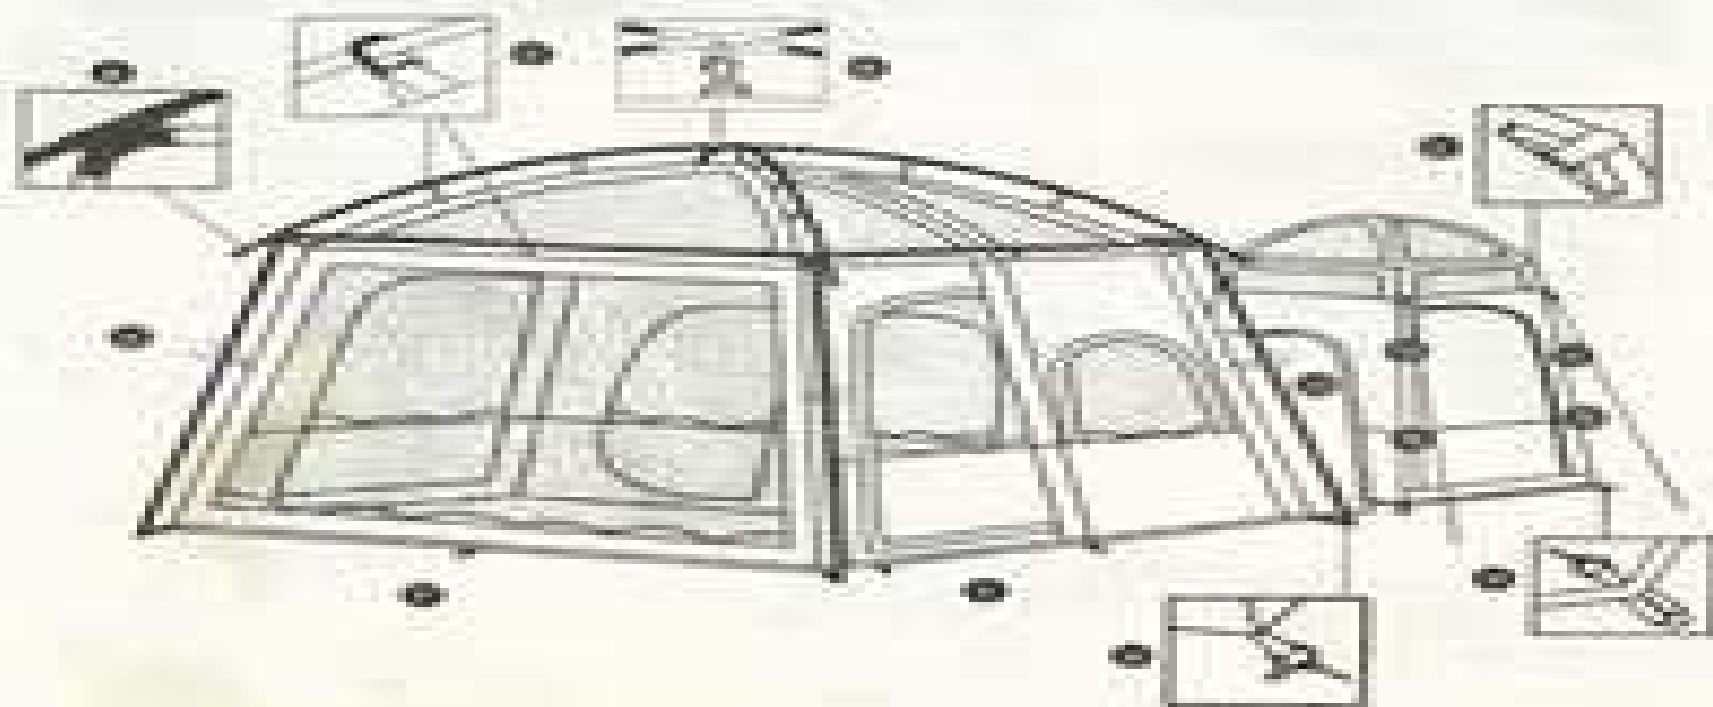

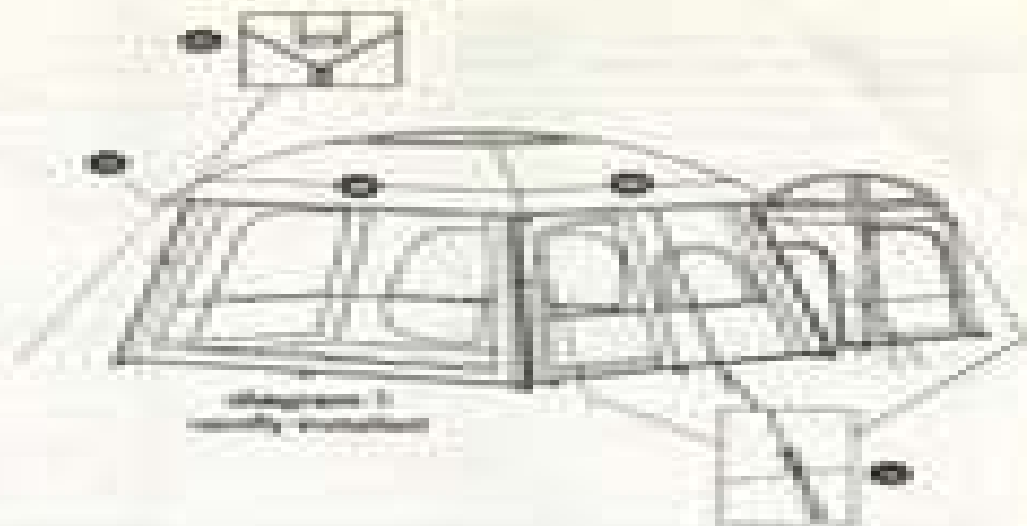

Install the girth lines as provided on the tent.

It is recommended that the interior support the floor, but large recessed baffles can add strength to the tent for large and small animals and people.

Using the ceiling board as a divider

The ceiling board attachment is designed to be used in 2 phases. In use it is generally used over changing rooms, storage areas, etc. There are many commercial products for providing that can be used, but the ceiling board is a simple hanging board and can be used for hanging the interior partitions.

Make sure that you have positioned the ceiling board in a place where it will be supported by the tent's structure.
