Critique of Political Decolonization Bernard Forjwuor,2023-05-24 What is political independence As a political act what was it sanctioned to accomplish Is formal colonialism over or a condition in the present albeit mutated and evolved In

Critique of Political Decolonization Bernard Forjwuor challenges what in normative scholarship has become a persistent conflation of two different concepts political decolonization and political independence This scholarly volume is an antinormative and critical refutation of the decolonial accomplishment of political independence or self determination in Ghana He argues that political independence is insufficiently a decolonial claim because it is framed within the context of a country where a permanent colonial settlement was never deemed necessary for the consolidation of future colonial political obligations So while territorial dissolution was politically engineered by Ghanaians the colonial merely reconstitutes itself in different legal and ideological forms Forjwuor offers new methodological theoretical and conceptual approaches to engaging the questions of colonialism political independence political decolonization justice and freedom and constructs multiple conceptual bridges between traditional disciplinary fields of inquiry including politics history law African studies economic history critical theory and philosophy and political theory Using the Ghanaian experience as a rich case study Forjwuor rethinks what colonialism and decolonization mean and asserts that decolonization is primarily a question of justice
