Nothing to Envy Barbara Demick, 2013-05-01 WINNER OF THE 2010 SAMUEL JOHNSON PRIZE FOR NON FICTION What if the world imagined by George Orwell in Nineteen Eighty four was real What if everything around you was black and white except for the red letters on propaganda signs Where spies like Orwell's thought Police studied your facial expressions during political rallies to make sure you were sincere in your expressions and your thoughts If you couldn't turn the dials of your radio away from the government station In fact there is such a place North Korea the only country not connected to the Internet by choice Ruled over by a dictator visible only in carefully controlled images it's a mysterious even sinister country But it's also a place where 22 million people live work and dream of a different life Journalist Barbara Demick spent a decade covering North Korea's strange politics and regulations then one day she met a young woman defector Mi ran who told her about growing up there about the cinema she used to go to when the country still had electricity and about the teenage romance which blossomed there through Mi ran s story Demick glimpsed another more human side of North Korea In Nothing to Envy Demick re traces the life of Mi ran and of five other North Koreans taking us into the heart of an elusive society We see her subjects fall in love nurture ambitions and struggle with survival and betrayal their stories form a haunting portrait of a bizarre society and the cost it exacts on its citizens
