Wandering Myths Lucy Gaynor Audley-Miller, Beate Dignas, 2018-10-08 In spite of the growing amount of important new work being carried out on uses of myth in particular ancient contexts their appeal and reception beyond the framework of one culture have rarely been the primary object of enquiry in contemporary debate Highlighting the fact that ancient societies were linked by their shared use of mythological narratives Wandering Myths aims to advance our understanding of the mechanisms by which such tales were disseminated cross culturally and to investigate how they gained local resonances In order to assess both wider geographic circulations and to explore specific local features and interpretations a regional approach is adopted with a particular focus on Anatolia the Near East and Italy Contributions are drawn from a range of disciplines and cross a wide chronological span but all are interlinked by their engagement with questions focusing on the factors that guided the processes of reception and steered the facets of local interpretation The Preface and Epilogue evaluate the material in a synoptic way and frame the challenging questions and views expressed in the Introduction

Ancient Marriage in Myth and Reality Lena Larsson Lovén, Agneta Strömberg, 2010-06-09 The papers in this volume were among the contributions presented at an international symposium Ancient Marriage in Myth and Reality which was held at the Swedish Institute in Rome in October 2006 The symposium was held under the aegis of ARACHNE the Nordic network for women's history and gender studies in Antiquity The study of ancient marriage has been largely the province of historians working with texts and the result of this was an emphasis on elite marriages discussed by the male writers of the upper classes and on laws pertaining to marriage Neither area has been exhausted as several essays in this new international collection indicate but the balance among the papers reveals the shift in focus Along with innovative readings of authors from Livy to Porphyry we find examinations of demographic and contractual evidence as well as inscriptions and visual imagery Among the contributors to the volume are Pauline Schmitt Pantel Judith Evans Grubbs Ray Laurence Marjatta Nielsen and Mary Harlow The Twelve Caesars
