Deaf Education Beyond the Western World

Harry Knoors,Maria Brons,Marc Marschark,2019-01-16 If teachers want to educate deaf learners effectively they have to apply evidence informed methods and didactics with the needs of individual deaf students in mind Education in general and education for deaf learners in particular is situated in broader societal contexts where what works within the Western world may be quite different from what works beyond the Western world By exploring practice based and research based evidence about deaf education in countries that largely have been left out of the international discussion thus far this volume encourages more researchers in more countries to continue investigating the learning environment of deaf learners based on the premise of leaving no one behind Featuring chapters centering on 19 countries from Africa Asia Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe the volume offers a picture of deaf education from the perspectives of local scholars and teachers who demonstrate best practices and challenges within their respective regional contexts This volume addresses the notion of learning through the exchange of knowledge outlines the commonalities and differences between practices and policies in educating deaf and hard of hearing learners and looks ahead to the prospects for the future development of deaf education research in the context of recently adopted international legal frameworks Stimulating academic exchange regionally and globally among scholars and teachers who are fascinated by and invested in deaf education this volume strengthens the foundation for further improvement of education for deaf children all around the world

Media, Conflict and Peacebuilding in Africa Jacinta Maweu,Admire Mare,2021-03-29 This book explores the role and place of popular traditional and digital media platforms in the mediatization representation and performance of various conflicts and peacebuilding interventions in the African context The role of the media in conflict is often depicted as either good as symbolized by peace journalism or bad as exemplified by war journalism but this book moves beyond this binary to highlight the in between role that the media often plays in times of conflict The volume does not only focus on the relationship between mass media conflict and peacebuilding processes but it broadens its scope by critically analysing the dynamic and emergent roles of popular and digital media platforms in a continent where the semi literate and oral communities still rely heavily on popular communication platforms to get news and information Whilst social media platforms have been hailed for their assumed democratic and digital dividends this book does not only focus on these positive aspects but also shines a light on dark forms of participation which are fuelling racial gender ethnic political and religious conflicts in highly polarized and stratified societies Highlighting the many ways in which traditional digital and popular media can be used to both escalate conflicts and promote peacebuilding this volume will be a useful resource for students researchers and civil society groups interested in peace and conflict studies journalism and media studies in different contexts within Africa

Governance and Transformations of Universities in Africa Fredrick. M. Nafukho,Helen M. A. Muyia,Beverly Irby,2014-06-01 While universities world over are undergoing reforms and change in the case of African universities as illustrated in this book the reforms and changes are profound and can best be described as transformative This book is unique in many ways which makes it extraordinary First unlike other books that have examined issues on higher education in Africa from externalist positions the contributors to this book are scholars who have been educated are currently teaching in African universities or have taught in African universities The book specifically focuses on transformations in the governance of African universities and its implications on equity entrepreneurship innovation quality assurance information and communication technologies ICTs and reform issues in higher education in Africa The book presents pertinent research on governance in African universities in an experiential and empirical manner The contributors of the book chapters include individuals actively involved in teaching researching and governance of higher education institutions in Africa The chapters are based on empirical data including review of relevant literature The book also recognizes that university governance is more than just crisis in financial or economic issues but includes best management practices shared governance meaningful reforms strategic planning consultation transparency and accountability client students lecturers parents and the public satisfaction as well as the role of the university in development The contributions take cognizance of the fact that governance as a concept is facing fundamental changes in the context of global knowledge economy and African local conditions Contributors also take cognizance of the fact that one important source of change in Africa has been the accelerating speed of scientific and technological advancement in learning at universities where lifelong learning programs adult learning programs distance and online learning are relatively new The chapters are also sensitive to new changes in gender demographical technological education reforms social and economic transformations in the governance of African universities The book is basically an academic book for use by undergraduates and graduate students at universities policy makers and formulators in African ministries of Education supra national organizations foreign organizations working in Africa NGOs and CBOs as well as development stakeholders and community organizers

The Environmental Crunch in Africa Jon Abbink, 2018-05-31. This book discusses the problems and challenges of environmental ecological conditions in Africa amidst the current craze of economic growth and development. Africa's significant economic dynamics and growth trajectories are marked by neglect of the environment reinforcing ecological crises. Unless environmental ecological and population growth problems are addressed as an integral part of developmental strategies and growth models the crises will accelerate and lead to huge costs in later years. Chapters examine multiple emerging tension points all across the continent including the potential benefits and harm of growing urban based ecotourism the trajectory of labour saving technologies and the problems facing agro pastoralism. Although environmental management and sustainability features of African rural societies should not be idealized functional traditional economies interests and management practices are often bypassed seen by state elites as inefficient and inhibiting growth. In many regions the seeds are now sown for lasting environmental crises that will affect local societies that have rarely been given opportunity to claim accountability from the state regimes and donors driving these changes.
