

Rachel wakes up with a start. She's in bed, but still in her clothes, the papers she'd been reading all around her. A clock shows 2 A.M. She moves to rub her face with her hands, and freezes.

She looks at her WRIST. It's ringed with a RED MARK. Like someone had grabbed her... in her sleep.

..and now, she hears what sounds like WHISPER-KEENING...

Chilled, she turns toward the sound..in the living room. She quickly gets out of bed.

This book will cover an analysis of the belief in the supernatural throughout the course of humanity's existence and showing that in a way the paranormal has always been normal. Using elements of theatre as the research vehicle as well as establishing the relationship between acting and the unknown, this book examines the rich relationship between theatre and the paranormal. Finally, this book will challenge the reader to consider the possibility of using theatre as a method for researching and investigating the paranormal. Readers will be asked to consider what would happen if investigators and ghost hunters took on the role of an actor and the haunted location becomes a performance space, thus welcoming communication and activity from the other side.
