Marshall's organization is a relatively young organization. The members are expected to be 18 or older and have attained at least an intermediate-high-school or college degree. However, members need not be students or college graduates. The club was the first in the United States that gave boys aged as low as 14 the opportunity to learn the principles of the program, and that engaged in meaningful service projects. As the organization's membership, programs, and the financial resources supporting the program grew, the program's membership was limited only to those in the United States and invited speakers, but had no resident members. The program's first year was 1964, and the first speaker was the author of the book on which the program is based. The growth of the program is continuing unabated and should continue to grow rapidly.
