

SEXUAL CONSENT: SOME BASICS

YES IS NECESSARY FIRST

There is no such thing as a "safe" sexual encounter. Every sexual encounter carries the risk of STIs and pregnancy. The only way to prevent these risks is to use condoms and birth control every time you have sex. There is no such thing as a "safe" sexual encounter.

YES IS VOLUNTARY

Consent must be given voluntarily, without coercion, threats, or force. If someone is drunk, drugged, or asleep, they cannot give consent. Consent can be withdrawn at any time, and it must be ongoing throughout the entire sexual encounter.

NO, PLEASE, MAKE SURE

It is the responsibility of everyone involved in a sexual encounter to ensure that all participants are consenting. If someone says "no" or "stop," you must stop immediately. Do not ignore someone's "no" or "stop." It is not your responsibility to "convince" someone to have sex with you.

CONSENT

Consent is a voluntary, sober, and ongoing agreement between two or more people to engage in a specific sexual activity. It is not a one-time agreement and can be withdrawn at any time. Consent is not implied by a person's appearance, clothing, or past behavior.

EVERYONE'S RESPONSIBILITY

Everyone involved in a sexual encounter has a responsibility to ensure that all participants are consenting. This includes asking for consent, respecting a "no," and using protection. It is not enough to just "have sex" without ensuring that everyone is consenting.

REMEMBER: CONSENT IS Ongoing

Consent is not a one-time agreement. It is an ongoing process that must be renewed throughout the entire sexual encounter. If someone changes their mind, you must stop immediately.
