The Uniqueness of the Empire State Building

According to the records in history, the United States was the very first country in the world to build so-called skyscrapers. The outstanding technology that is used in raising building which seemed to reach the sky has improved a lot through the years, with skyscrapers of all configurations and shapes. Among all of these skyscrapers, there is one which has been considered as iconic, which, despite being built about a century ago, is still considered as one of the symbols of America. This building is the Empire State Building

This skyscraper of a building has 102 floors, with a height of 1454 feet. It is located in Manhattan, occupying an area of about 208,879 m². Quite surprisingly, the building was only raised in a period of 410 days, with about 3,400 construction workers focused on it. What is even more surprising is that it also did not cost much, covering everything, including the cost of the land, with the total project price that is just half that the approximate amount. The overall cost of the entire project is not really much for a huge building that was built during those times.

The building was built in an architectural and art deco style. This was common in the America back In the 1930s. The Empire State Building was the perfect representation of such style, from its symmetrical patterns, geometric forms, including contrasted, vivid colors. Possibly the most amazing aspect of the building is its antenna, having an unusual shape. It does not serve as a décor, but also protects the entire building, and at the same time, acting as a lightning rod, as every year, it is hit by lightning about 23 times. Indeed, the Empire State Building is an outstanding example of engineering genius, architectural style, as well as the spirit of the American 1930's era.
