Political Exercise Lawrence D. Brown, 2022-03-08 The public health benefits of giving city dwellers increased opportunities to lead physically active lifestyles are well known to urban planners public health scholars and government officials Moreover increases in active living such as walking and cycling help the environment support local businesses and reduce traffic congestion among other advantages But despite wide agreement that active living is both achievable and valuable best practices are not easy to implement In Political Exercise Lawrence D Brown presents five case studies of cities that have promoted active living with varying success through a range of approaches He shows how and why the transformation of a call for public intervention into projects programs and policies is inescapably political Brown argues that in order to implement policies that support active living their proponents must give communities a sense of ownership of recommended changes in the built environment filter the public health agenda through a range of public and private organizations and secure committed political champions At the intersection of public health and urban planning Political Exercise offers a framework for scholars policy makers and reformers to more productively address both the rationales behind active living and the political strategies that spur change

Contemporary Planning Practice Gavin Parker, Emma Street, 2021-04-22. Planning today is an increasingly complex system of specialisms and this brand new introduction is the first textbook to offer both a broad overview of each core area in planning alongside the skills necessary to combine each specialism in order to make sustainable and efficient planning decisions. In so doing, it gives students a unique glimpse into the realities of working in planning today. Planners need knowledge that goes beyond the history of planning decisions in order to reconcile competing demands from corporate speculative property developers to environmental activists. This new role aggregating specialisms is at the forefront of this innovative approach, equipping students with the tools necessary to do planning which today means being both expert and generalist, specialist and synthesiser. Planners must now act as professional mediators of different, often conflicting or incompatible interests. Planners are themselves working as specialists, whether that is in heritage, transport, ecology, economic assessment or design. And this dual role reflects the organisation of this new text, introduced with a wealth of practitioner informed chapters to enliven and inspire passion for the crucial role of planning. This text is an ideal companion for all practitioners and students of planning and related disciplines at undergraduate and master's level.

Road Vehicle Automation 5 Gereon Meyer, Sven Beiker, 2018-06-25. This is the fifth volume of a sub-series on Road Vehicle Automation published within the Lecture Notes in Mobility. The book is based on the Automated Vehicles Symposium which was hosted by the Transportation Research Board (TRB) and the Association for Unmanned Vehicle Systems International (AUVSI) in San Francisco, California, USA, in July 2017.

The Art of Classic Planning Nir Haim Buras, 2020-01-28. An accomplished architect and urbanist goes back to the roots of what makes cities attractive and livable, demonstrating how we can restore function and beauty to our urban spaces for the long term. Nearly everything we treasure in the world's most beautiful cities was built over a century ago. Cities like Prague, Paris, and Lisbon draw millions of visitors from around the world because of their exquisite architecture, walkable neighborhoods, and human scale. Yet a great deal of the knowledge and practice behind successful city planning has been abandoned over the last hundred years, not because of traffic, population growth, or other practical hurdles, but because of ill-considered theories emerging from Modernism and reactions to it. The errors of urban design over the last century are too great not to question The solutions being offered today sustainability walkability smart and green technologies hint at what has been lost and what may be regained but they remain piecemeal and superficial In The Art of Classic Planning architect and planner Nir Haim Buras documents and extends the time tested and holistic practices that held sway before the reign of Modernism With hundreds of full color illustrations and photographs that will captivate architects planners administrators and developers The Art of Classic Planning restores and revitalizes the foundations of urban planning Inspired by venerable cities like Kyoto Vienna and Venice and by the great successes of L'Enfant's Washington Haussmann's Paris and Burnham's Chicago Buras combines theory and a host of examples to arrive at clear guidelines for best practices in classic planning for today's world The Art of Classic Planning celebrates the enduring principles of urban design and invites us to return to building beautiful cities
