Watching; The Book of Romans By Faith in Christ Alone William Reid,2019-07-15 We have learned to keep score on just about everything Therefore we unwittingly carry that same ethic over into our spiritual lives If we have to work hard and dedicate ourselves to achieving success then we end up thinking that we have to keep score on achieving righteousness Paul s emphasis is one that runs throughout the Bible we are losers and sinners All have sinned and come short of the glory of God We cannot lift ourselves by our own bootstraps Personal works and effort count for nothing It takes a while for this to get past our ego and pride Paul kept it simple righteousness is by faith in Jesus Christ alone No scoreboard watching

Preparing for Death, Remembering the Dead Tarald Rasmussen,Jon Øygarden Flæten,2015-04-22 Death and dying were not in the main focus of the denominational conflicts of the 16th century However pious literature covered these topics again and again not only before the Reformation but after it as well Here certain denominational differences are clearly visible Partly these differences consist in the use of genres For example funeral sermons are an often used genre among Lutherans while they are much rarer in the Reformed tradition Similar differences can be observed concerning epitaphs In Roman Catholic areas funeral sermons and epitaphs are common in the 16th century too but their religious function is often a different from the one in Lutheranism Beyond such interdenominational differences there are also interesting continuities and connections which the contributors of the volume analyze For example there is a certain continuity between 16th century Lutheran funeral sermons and the late medieval tradition of ars moriendi The volume contains papers presented at the Second RefoRC Conference in Oslo in 2012 and is characterized by a multiconfessional and multidisciplinary approach with contributions from Church History Art History Archaeology History of Literature and Cultural History Within a field of research dominated by specialized contributions e g on ars moriendi traditions or on specific traditions of funeral monuments and funeral sermons the broad approach of this volume may further stimulate to comparative and cross confessional reflection The Truth against Errors Liliane Binnyuy,2017-03-20 This book is aimed at correcting errors in the church of God It addresses controversial issues on Faith Salvation Being Born Again The Law Good Works Righteousness Holiness Tithes Earthly Riches The Gift of Tongues

Calvin on the Death of Christ Paul A. Hartog,2023-04-27 John Calvin s understanding of the extent of the atonement achieved in Christ s death is one of the most contested questions in historical theology In common thought Calvin s name is closely associated with the limited atonement stance canonized within the TULIP acronym but Calvin s personal endorsement of a strictly particularist view whereby Christ died for the elect alone is debatable In Calvin on the Death of Christ Paul Hartog re examines Calvin s writing on the subject traces the various resulting historical trajectories and engages with the full spectrum of more recent scholarship In so doing he makes clear that while Calvin undoubtedly believed in unconditional election he also repeatedly spoke of Christ dying for all or for the world These phrases must be held central if we are to discover Calvin s own view of the subject Hartog s conclusions will surprise some and may hold significant implications for the Calvinist tradition today Throughout however they are cogently articulated and sensitively pitched

Death and the Body in the Eighteenth-Century Novel Jolene Zigarovich, 2023-01-10

Death and the Body in the Eighteenth Century Novel demonstrates that archives continually speak to the period s rising funeral and mourning culture as well as the increasing commodification of death and mourning typically associated with nineteenth century practices Drawing on a variety of historical discourses such as wills undertaking histories medical treatises and textbooks anatomical studies philosophical treatises and religious tracts and sermons the book contributes to a fuller understanding of the history of death in the Enlightenment and its narrative transformation Death and the Body in the Eighteenth Century Novel not only offers new insights about the effect of a growing secularization and commodification of death on the culture and its productions but also fills critical gaps in the history of death using narrative as a distinct literary marker As anatomists dissected undertakers preserved jewelers encased and artists figured the corpse so too the novelist portrayed bodily artifacts Why are these morbid forms of materiality entombed in the novel Jolene Zigarovich addresses this complex question by claiming that the body itself its parts or its preserved representation functioned as secular memento suggesting that preserved remains became symbols of individuality and subjectivity To support the conception that in this period notions of self and knowing center upon theories of the tactile and material the chapters are organized around sensory conceptions and bodily materials such as touch preserved flesh bowel heart wax hair and bone Including numerous visual examples the book also argues that the relic represents the slippage between corpse and treasure sentimentality and materialism and corporeal fetish and aesthetic accessory Zigarovich s analysis compels us to reassess the eighteenth century response to and representation of the dead and dead like body and its material purpose and use in fiction In a broader framework Death and the Body in the Eighteenth Century Novel also narrates a history of the novel that speaks to the cultural formation of modern individualism

The Death of the

Messiah and the Birth of the New Covenant Michael J. Gorman, 2014-06-27 In this groundbreaking book Michael Gorman asks why there is no theory or model of the atonement called the new covenant model since this understanding of the atonement is likely the earliest in the Christian tradition going back to Jesus himself Gorman argues that most models of the atonement over emphasize the penultimate purposes of Jesus death and the mechanics of the atonement rather than its ultimate purpose to create a transformed Spirit filled people of God The New Testament s various atonement metaphors are part of a remarkably coherent picture of Jesus death as that which brings about the new covenant and thus the new community promised by the prophets which is also the covenant of peace Gorman therefore proposes a new model of the atonement that is really not new at all the new covenant model He argues that this is not merely an ancient model in need of rediscovery but also a more comprehensive integrated participatory communal and missional model than any of the major models in the tradition Life in this new covenant Gorman argues is a life of communal and individual participation in Jesus faithful loving peacemaking death Written for both academics and church leaders this book will challenge all who read it to re think and re articulate the meaning of Christ s death for us

God, Self, and Death Shannon Burkes Pinette, 2021-12-28 This volume considers the emerging Jewish interest in an afterlife during the second temple period in relation to developing views of the deity and the self In some circles God is understood as increasingly distant from the human sphere and so justice must occur in another world or after death at the same time more autonomous constructions of the self in response to community breakdown suggest that reward and punishment come not only collectively but also on the individual level in a post mortem realm The book traces the interconnections between these themes in Job and Ecclesiastes Ben Sira and Daniel then Wisdom of Solomon and 4 Ezra crossing genre boundaries in an attempt to offer a more encompassing historical investigation
