implications for developmental models of externalizing conduct are captured by prevailing nosologic and diagnostic systems such as the DSM 5 The Oxford Handbook of Externalizing Spectrum Disorders is the first book of its kind to capture the developmental psychopathology of externalizing spectrum disorders by examining causal factors across levels of analysis and developmental epochs while departing from the categorical perspective World renowned experts on externalizing psychopathology demonstrate how shared genetic and neural vulnerabilities predispose to trait impulsivity a highly heritable personality construct that is often shaped by adverse environments into increasingly intractable forms of externalizing conduct across development Consistent with contemporary models of almost all forms of psychopathology the Handbook emphasizes the importance of neurobiological vulnerability and environmental risk interactions in the expression of externalizing behavior across the lifespan The volume concludes with an integrative ontogenic process model of externalizing psychopathology in which diverse equifinal and multifinal pathways to disorder are specified

Development of a Full-scale Transmission Testing Procedure to Evaluate Advanced Lubricants David G. Lewicki, 1992 Experimental tests were performed on the OH 58A helicopter main rotor transmission in the NASA Lewis 500 hp Helicopter Transmission Test Stand The testing was part of a joint Navy NASA Army lubrication program to develop a separate lubricant for gearboxes that would improve life and load carrying capacity The goal of the experiments was to develop a testing procedure using a MIL L 23699 base reference oil to fail certain transmission components and then to run identical tests with improved lubricants and demonstrate improved performance The tests were directed at failing components that have given the Navy problems because of marginal lubrication These failures included mast shaft bearing micropitting sun gear and planet bearing fatigue and spiral bevel gear scoring More than 900 hr of total run time were accumulated for these tests Some success was achieved in developing a testing procedure to produce sun gear and planet bearing fatigue failures Only marginal success was achieved in producing mast shaft bearing micropitting and spiral bevel gear scoring
